A PRIME MISSION — Mrs. Thomas Seigenthaler and son, Daniel, 2, wave farewell as the aircraft carrier Wasp, prime recovery ship for the Gemini 6 and 7 space missions, leaves South Boston. The vessel, if all goes well, will be the first to greet astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell and Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford.

Medics Check 4 Astronauts

Gemini 7 Launch Due Saturday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 7 and 6 astronauts had a five-hour appointment with the doctors today to make certain they are physically and mentally fit for their doubleheader space launching.

For the Gemini 7 crew, Air Force Lt. Col. Frank Borman and Navy Cmdr. James A. Lovell Jr., it was the final major check before they ride a Titan 2 rocket into the sky Saturday to kick off the twin shot. Scheduled blastoff time for the 14-day endurance mission is 2:30 p.m. (EST).

The Gemini 6 astronauts, Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford, undergo a less extensive exam. They will have a final physical three days before the scheduled Dec. 13 liftoff of their two-day flight.

The two spacecraft are to rendezvous, perhaps within a few inches, in what would be an historic space feat.

The Borman-Lovell examinations will provide baseline data for use in the most comprehensive medical survey ever attempted on a U.S. man-in-space journey.

Gemini 7 will be crammed with medical instruments which will funnel information to groundstations as Borman and Lovell circle the earth for 329 hours in a weightless whirl.

The study is to answer such questions as: Do bones grow old in weightlessness? Can man be protected from developing a "lazy heart" in space? Can he survive well enough in space to make a 14-day flight to the moon, the longest planned in the Apollo program? How deep does an astronaut sleep?

Three experiments are designed to learn what happens to the calcium in bones. The Gemini 4 and 5 flights, four and eight days respectively, showed some loss of calcium.

Big Bank's Check Book Unbalanced

NEW YORK (AP) — If you've ever had trouble keeping your checking account balanced, then you can understand how things got out of hand the other day down at the bank.

For 24 hours at the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. $3 billion worth of checking account deposits went unbalanced.

It came about when the computer that does the bank's accounting developed a headache in its mechanical brain.

Eventually, the bank was able to use some standby equipment and got out its bookkeeping five hours late.

New Bridge Opening Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Opening of the Thomas A. Edison Bridge over Sandusky Bay, originally scheduled for Dec. 17, has been moved up to Dec. 15, the Highway Department says.

Once Around Roundtown

ALTHOUGH it's Dec. 1, Larry Graham, 389 Northridge Road, found a large white sponge mushroom under a hickory nut tree today . . . Rather amazed to discover the specimen this late in the season, he said the dandy was covered by a pile of leaves.

6 Children Killed in Home Blaze

QUAKERTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Numbbed by the tragedy, a 52-year-old father sat in a state police car today and watched investigators probe the smoking wreckage where six children burned to death.

The victims were the children or foster children of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Allen Sr. The children died Tuesday night when a fast-spreading fire trapped them in their one-story wooden home in a rural area near this southeastern Pennsylvania community. A seventh child was critically burned.

Allen sat in the back seat of the state police car staring straight ahead as investigators in the pre-dawn darkness tried to learn what caused the fire.

Chester Allen Jr., 19, said the victims were his brothers Eric, 1, and David, 11, and four foster children his parents cared for: Jack Jones, 2; Robin Jones, 8; Penny Jones, 6; and Ronnie Jones, 7.

The son said he left his father at the house Tuesday night and went with his wife, Elaine, and a sister, Elizabeth, 17, to pick up the mother at a nursing home where she worked. Chester Jr. said when they left, his father had been trying to light the furnace to ward off sub-freezing cold.

As they returned home about 45 minutes later, Elizabeth said, "We saw the flames going up one side of the house. By the time we got there the whole joint was gone."

Tigernaper Strikes In Dayton Again

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — "I want to report a stolen tiger," police were notified by the same fellow for the third time in three months Tuesday.

The tiger was stolen in downtown Dayton.

It's a plastic tiger dressed in a man's suit, the outside sign of the Tiger Lounge.

Lounge owner Dave Gough valued the five-foot, 20-pound sign at about $100.

The "tigernaper's" taste is "awfully expensive for us," Gough lamented after losing No. 3. He offered a $25 reward for its return.

Father-Son Reunion Is Too Much for Both

BERGAMO, Italy (AP) — Nicola Comelli, 88, and his son Pietro met Tuesday for the first time in 20 years.

Moments after the meeting Pietro, 55, who had been living in Sardinia, suffered a heart attack and died.

His shocked father died a few hours later of another heart attack.

End to Big Farm Aid Plans Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — James G. Patton, retiring president of the National Farmers Union and a militant battler for strong government farm aid, predicted today the end of big federal agricultural programs.

In a significant statement of his views of the future, Patton predicted the farm bargaining will be carried on by cooperatives able to control sufficient supplies to obtain farm returns which no longer would need to be supplemented, as now is the case for some commodities, by government payments. Patton and former Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan, now general counsel of the Farmers Union, have been strong advocates of payment programs.

A rival farm organization, the American Farm Bureau Federation, long has fought government farm programs. It has been promoting farm bargaining cooperatives.

Patton made it clear, however, that he has no intention of retiring as a farm leader, although he said that under no circumstances would he accept a new term when his present one expires in March. He has headed the Farmers Union for 25 years.

He said he expects to devote his time to international agricultural development, the promotion of the farm bargaining cooperative movement, the establishment of a broad American food-for-peace program, the creation of a world land bank offering easy credit to poor farmers, and the promotion of programs to end poverty wherever it might exist in this country.

"It behooves farmers, their leaders and their organizations," he said, "to search for means by which they themselves can obtain a high degree of farm commodity supply management and marketing through programs operated by cooperatives. Such cooperatives should include retail food chains and should be open to consumers as well as farmers for membership."

"Unless farmers promote such cooperatives," he added, "the alternative might well be eventual control of food production and distribution by big business organizations including chain stores."

4 Children, Mother Die In Home Fire

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A young mother and her four children burned to death today in a residence fire on Portsmouth's near east side.

Dead in the fire is Mrs. William Johnson, 22, and her children Ronnie 4, Bryan 3, Becky 2 and Gregory, 13 months.

Their house on Jackson Street was a mass of flames when a neighbor turned in the alarm.

John Everman, the neighbor, was working in the yard when he saw a window and a door of the two-story frame dwelling "blow out." There was no particular sound of an explosion, but Everman said when the window and the door blew he could see that the interior of the house was all aflame.

There was no chance of rescuing the occupants.

The father, William, was at work in a Portsmouth dental laboratory at the time of the fire.

Fire chief Anton Staker said exact cause of the blaze cannot be determined immediately, but believed it possible that the fire started from a cigaret with fumes igniting in one of the rooms after the flames spread.

Turnpike Record Looms

CLEVELAND (AP) — Revenue may reach $30 million this year on the Ohio Turnpike, the highest ever for the state's superhighway, Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shoeness said today.

Shoplifting Is Fast-Growing Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — With just 20 shopping days until Christmas, the FBI reported today that shoplifting is the nation's fastest-growing form of larceny, having increased 93 per cent in the past five years.

Police last year recorded 184,473 shoplifting cases involving stolen goods worth almost $5 million.

Most shoplifters are women, the FBI said, "probably because of the ease with which the female shoplifter can conceal stolen articles on and around her person."

Trial of Klan Is Continuing

Prosecution Calls 5 More Witnesses

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Justice Department calls five more witnesses today before it winds up its case against three Ku Klux Klansmen accused of killing Viola Gregg Liuzzo, a white civil rights worker.

Asst. Atty. Gen. John Doar said the testimony today would be relative to the conspiracy charge against the trio. They are charged specifically with conspiring to violate the civil rights of the Detroit, Mich., mother of five.

The defendants are Collyer Wilkins Jr., 22, of Fairfield, Ala., and Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala. They are represented by former Mayor Arthur Hanes of Birmingham.

Mrs. Liuzzo, wife of Anthony Liuzzo, a Teamsters Union official, was shot to death March 25 after the Selma-to-Montgomery march as she shuttled demonstrators back to Selma.

Since U. S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. had ruled the march was a right of the demonstrators and could be held, the government gained an indictment that Mrs. Liuzzo's right was, therefore, violated. The indictment, which carries a maximum of 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine, does not mention Mrs. Liuzzo by name.

The government presented its star witness Tuesday — Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., a former Birmingham bartender who testified he was asked by the FBI to infiltrate the Klan and obtain information.

Rowe, on the stand for 3½ hours, repeated testimony he gave twice in state courts of how he was with the defendants when their car sped past the vehicle Mrs. Liuzzo was driving and shots were fired into it.

Wilkins was tried twice on state charges of murder. A mistrial and an acquittal resulted.

U.S. Is Mum On GIs Freed By Viet Cong

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — U.S. spokesmen kept an official silence on the antiwar statements of two American soldiers in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Tuesday after their release from two years of Viet Cong captivity.

In Washington, the State Department said an effort was being made through Australian diplomats in the Cambodian capital to arrange for the departure of Sgt. George E. Smith, 27, of Chester, W. Va., and Spec. 5 Claude E. McClure, 25 of Chattanooga Tenn. Cambodia broke relations with the United States last May.

Smith and McClure told a news conference at which they flanked a Viet Cong emissary that they were well treated by their captors. They denounced the U.S. war effort in Viet Nam.

Neither mentioned the execution of S. Sgt. Kenneth M. Rorback of Fayetteville, N.C., who was captured when the Viet Cong overwhelmed a Special Forces camp outside Saigon Nov. 24, 1963. The Viet Cong announced in September they had killed Roarback in retaliation for the execution of Communist sympathizers by the South Vietnamese government.

The FBI's legal term for shoplifting is "stealing." To fit that description, the culprit must take merchandise from a store during business hours and carry it away with the intention of theft.

Professional shoplifters steal for profit with the intention of reselling the merchandise, the FBI said.

"Usually with little income or means of support, he or she makes it his vocation, primarily working in department stores and specialty shops, though spreading his talent around where it will do the most good."

The professional prefers suburban stores over downtown stores because there is apt to be less security in the outlying establishments.

He often trains accomplices and works in pairs or threes, assigning one to distract the attention of the salesperson while the other helps himself to loot from the counters.

Among the amateur shoplifters are housewives, persons with small incomes and juveniles of both sexes. "They steal for several reasons," the FBI said, "real or imaginary hardship, personal need, an opportunity presenting itself, inability to resist temptation, or — especially with juveniles — for the thrill involved."

Housewives, who sometimes steal because of their small budgets, often take wearing apparel and food and sometimes use their children as accomplices, bawling them out for dishonesty if they are caught in the act.

Congressional Junkets Due To Cost All-Time High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators and representatives seem on their way toward establishing a record for globe-girdling travels during the congressional recess.

The bill for this year's overseas missions will not be known until sometime in March when all of the itemized accounts are turned in and published in the Congressional Record.

But it is expected to exceed by far the $398,876.65 spent in 1964 — $239,300.90 for travels by House members and $157,575.30 for expenses of senators.

On the whole, congressmen on missions for House and Senate committees can charge the government for their official expenses. But many say they pay their own way, including travel by commercial airliner, hotel bills and the like.

All are supposed to pay for entertainment, such as visits to theaters and night clubs. In most cases they are supposed to pay for their wives if they take them along.

The bulk of the overseas spending is covered by the use of so-called counterpart funds, or U. S.-owned currencies which have accumulated largely when surplus farm commodities are sold under the Food for Peace program for local currency rather than U. S. dollars.

Many of those engaged in overseas investigations — the critics call them junkets — have gone and returned. Others are yet to go, and some sizable delegations are currently on tour. Individual members come and go on unheralded trips.

The purpose of the trips include inspection of military installations, investigation of how the foreign aid program is being run, attendance at international conferences, checking into peace prospects in Viet Nam and inspection of how the Alliance for Progress program is operating in Latin America.

LBJ Calls on Advisers To Check Living Cost Rise

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, concerned about record living costs rising at a close-to-inflation rate, plans an early meeting with key economic advisers to map a federal campaign against further hikes in price tags.

Johnson is expected to meet within the next week or 10 days, either at his ranch home near here or in Washington, with what he terms his economic "quadrant" — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Budget Director Charles L. Schultze, Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board and Chairman Gardner Ackley of his Council of Economic Advisers.

When it occurs, the session probably will be labeled a routine, periodic meeting of the group which, before Johnson's Oct. 8 surgery, got together with him at the White House about once every six weeks.

One reason for passing off such a conference in routine fashion — at least in advance — could be the potential impact on financial markets for stocks, bonds and, equally important, for money.

The "money markets" determine short-term borrowing costs that affect everyone from big industrialists to householders buying a new refrigerator on installment credit.

The Labor Department announced Tuesday in Washington that living costs rose by two-tenths of one per cent in October to an historic peak. The increase, the most rapid in some five years, nudged the upper limits of what the government deems noninflationary. However, federal officials avoided the scare word "inflation."

Johnson's concern about a possible new wage-price spiral, war in Viet Nam, has been evident for months.

It was this concern that prompted him to invite steel wage negotiators to the White House in late August to work out a new contract that would not do violence to federal wage-price guidelines.

The same concern prompted the President, acting through subordinates, to counter announced increases in aluminum and copper prices within the past month. Those price hikes were canceled.

Johnson himself has kept silent on prices in recent weeks. But his actions, as carried out by lesser officials, have signaled his deep concern.

$3,052,559 Given Ohio Hill Country

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Records of the Ohio Office of Economic Opportunity show that of the national budget of $2.3 billion to fight poverty, the state's 28 "hill country" Appalachians have been granted $3,052,559.

Indications that the stream of federal money into the Ohio Appalachians counties is slow came recently from Ohio University. There Milton Hyman, district director for the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity for Ohio, said many local officials are not digging deeply enough into the real poverty of their counties and bringing poor persons into their programs.

A survey showed that Holmes, one of the 28 counties and famous for its Amish farmers, Swiss cheese and trail bologna, has not received any antipoverty funds. Only antipoverty money received in two other counties, Highland and Carroll, has been $5,480 in Farm Home Administration loans.

Other Ohio officials point to the success of "head start" and "Neighborhood Youth Corps" projects, by far the most numerous of the antipoverty programs in the 28 Appalachians counties in Ohio have received any funds for community action committees, a total of $88,893. On paper, the counties are asking a total of $1,184,052.

President Has No Plans For Yule Trip to Viet

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has no plans to visit South Viet Nam at Christmas.

Very few people even conceived of Johnson journeying to the danger-ridden war zone, a bodyguard's nightmare, until publication this week of a report in Newsweek magazine that some presidential advisers were urging such a trip.

The White House lost little time in denying everything.

U.S. Losses In Viet Fall

South Vietnamese Casualties High

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The destruction of South Viet Nam's 7th Regiment in savage fighting Saturday raised the Vietnamese weekly combat dead to 459, the government's second-highest toll of the war, a U.S. military spokesman announced today.

Another 185 government soldiers were missing in action and 861 were wounded, the spokesman said.

The number of American dead dropped to 40 in the week ending last Saturday, the spokesman said. This compared with 240 Americans killed the previous week, the biggest U.S. casualty list since the United States began sending troops to Viet Nam nearly five years ago.

In addition, 117 Americans were wounded and five were missing. More than 1,300 Americans have been killed in the Viet Nam combat.

The U.S. toll last week was also far below the 70 and 86 Americans killed in the first two weeks of November.

No U.S. units engaged Communist forces of any size during the week, while the Viet Cong made at least two and possibly three regimental-sized attacks on Vietnamese units. Five other Communist attacks were of battalion size and four were of company size.

The spokesman said 1,539 Viet Cong were killed during the week, giving U.S. and government troops a favorable kill ratio of 3 to 1.

Many of the South Vietnamese soldiers fell in the devastating attack on the 7th Regiment on an abandoned French rubber plantation 45 miles northwest of Saigon Saturday. Some U.S. advisers were among the casualties.

No major ground action was reported today, but the Viet Cong kept up guerrilla pressure, striking before dawn at three small government outposts in the central highlands south of the big U.S. air base at Da Nang. Communications went dead with one of the camps.

Woman Convicted In Embezzlement

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Butler County Common Pleas Court Judge Fred B. Cramer today convicted Mrs. Elizabeth Tynes, 41-year-old mother of four, of embezzlement of $5,632 from the No. 2 Butler County Court at Fairfield.

Judge Cramer had tried the case without a jury.

He referred the case to the probation department and said he would pronounce sentence Dec. 15. Mrs. Tynes will remain free under $5,000 bond.

Mrs. Tynes testified Tuesday she did not know what happened to the money and denied taking it.

Marine Chief Blisters Carriers of Red Flag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marine commandant Gen. Wallace M. Greene has blistered Americans who carry the Communist Viet Cong flag.

"Obviously," he said Tuesday, "the display of an enemy flag alongside our own flag in the capital of our country in front of the White House, is an insult to every American, living and dead."

Power Plant To Zambia To Be Protected

LONDON (AP) — Britain will fight to protect the flow of power from the Kariba power plant in rebellious Rhodesia to the copper mines of neighboring Zambia, Prime Minister Wilson declared today.

While the white government of Rhodesia has said it has no intention of cutting off the power, Wilson told a packed House of Commons that Britain will take whatever action is necessary to protect the flow of electricity from the Kariba plan on the Zambian-Rhodesian border.

"If that did mean a limited (military) operation—we should be prepared to take that operation," he said.

As Wilson issued his warning, his government moved Royal Air Force planes and men to Kenya, ready for a quick entry into Zambia, which lies on breakaway Rhodesia's northern frontier.

Wilson said for reasons the British lawmakers would understand he was in no position to give a definite account of any arrangements reached with the Zambian government.

This represented confirmation of unofficial reports that President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia had objected to some of the terms imposed by Wilson on the deployment and purposes of any British force sent to Zambia.

Wilson disclosed that Commonwealth Relations Secretary Arthur Bottomley flew to Zambia's capital to discuss a further request by Kaunda's government for a battalion of British ground troops.

This, Wilson said, would be additional to Britain's offer of a force comprising a Royal Air Force squadron of Javelin fighters to be based in the copper belt city of Ndola and a ground element to be based in Lusaka, the capital.

"I have given President Kaunda the assurance that we will

9 Miles of Phone Wire Are Stolen

UKIAH, Calif. (AP) — When telephone suddenly stopped working in areas of Mendocino County during November, many residents were ready to storm the telephone company offices to demand better service.

Sheriff's deputies reported Tuesday they had discovered the cause. Telephone wire had been clipped in remote spots and rolled up on spools to be sold as junk in the San Francisco area.

In all, nine miles of wire was snipped in five separate raids. Arrested and jailed on felony charges of cutting telephone lines were David Phillips, 18, of Carrollton, Ga.; and three Ukiah, Calif., men; Alex Hannah, 27, his brother James, 21, and John Shroyer, 26.

Ohioan Gets Money Back after 42 Years

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Ethel Miller received $45 in the mail recently, accompanied by an unsigned letter that read:

"I believe this is the amount I found. Please forgive me, for it was badly needed."

"I do forgive him, oh, I do," said the suburban Rossford woman. "It must have preyed on his mind."

But Mrs. Miller thinks the debt has been overpaid. She believes there was only $29 in her purse when she lost it in 1923.

Neither mentioned the execution of S. Sgt. Kenneth M. Roarback of Fayetteville, N.C., who was captured with them when the Viet Cong overwhelmed a Special Forces camp outside Saigon Nov. 24, 1963. The Viet Cong announced in September they had killed Roarback in retaliation for the execution of Communist sympathizers by the South Vietnamese government.

The FBI's legal term for shoplifting is "stealing." To fit that description, the culprit must take merchandise from a store during business hours and carry it away with the intention of theft.

Professional shoplifters steal for profit with the intention of reselling the merchandise, the FBI said.

"Usually with little income or means of support, he or she makes it his vocation, primarily working in department stores and specialty shops, though spreading his talent around where it will do the most good."

The professional prefers suburban stores over downtown stores because there is apt to be less security in the outlying establishments.

He often trains accomplices and works in pairs or threes, assigning one to distract the attention of the salesperson while the other helps himself to loot from the counters.

Among the amateur shoplifters are housewives, persons with small incomes and juveniles of both sexes.

"They steal for several reasons," the FBI said, "real or imaginary hardship, personal need, an opportunity presenting itself, inability to resist temptation, or — especially with juveniles — for the thrill involved."

Housewives, who sometimes steal because of their small budgets, often take wearing apparel and food and sometimes use their children as accomplices, bawling them out for dishonesty if they are caught in the act.

Congressional Junkets Due To Cost All-Time High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators and representatives seem on their way toward establishing a record for globe-girdling travels during the congressional recess.

The bill for this year's overseas missions will not be known until sometime in March when all of the itemized accounts are turned in and published in the Congressional Record.

But it is expected to exceed by far the $396,876.65 spent in 1964 — $239,300.90 for travels by House members and $157,575.30 for expenses of senators.

On the whole, congressmen on missions for House and Senate committees can charge the government for their official expenses. But many say they pay their own way, including travel by commercial airliner, hotel bills and the like.

All are supposed to pay for entertainment, such as visits to theaters and night clubs. In most cases they are supposed to pay for their wives if they take them along.

The bulk of the overseas spending is covered by the use of so-called counterpart funds, or U. S.-owned currencies which have accumulated largely when surplus farm commodities are sold under the Food for Peace program for local currency rather than U. S. dollars.

Many of those engaged in overseas investigations — the critics call them junkets — have gone and returned. Others are yet to go, and some sizable delegations are currently on tour. Individual members come and go on unheralded trips.

The purpose of the trips include inspection of military installations, investigation of how the foreign aid program is being run, attendance at international conferences, checking into peace prospects in Viet Nam and inspection of how the Alliance for Progress program is operating in Latin America.

LBJ Calls on Advisers To Check Living Cost Rise

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, concerned about record living costs rising at a close-to-inflation rate, plans an early meeting with key economic advisers to map a federal campaign against further hikes in price tags.

Johnson is expected to meet within the next week or 10 days, either at his ranch home near here or in Washington, with what he terms his economic "quadriad" — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Budget Director Charles L. Schultz, Chairman William McCleskey Martin of the Federal Reserve Board and Chairman Gardner Ackley of his Council of Economic Advisers.

When it occurs, the session probably will be labeled a routine, periodic meeting of the group which, before Johnson's Oct. 8 surgery, got together with him at the White House about once every six weeks.

One reason for passing off such a conference in routine fashion — at least in advance — could be the potential impact on financial markets for stocks, bonds and, equally important, for money.

The "money markets" determine short-term borrowing costs that affect everyone from big industrialists to householders buying a new refrigerator on installment credit.

The Labor Department announced Tuesday in Washington that living costs rose by two-tenths of one per cent in October to an historic peak. The increase, the most rapid in some five years, nudged the upper limits of what the government deems noninflationary. However, federal officials avoided the scare word "inflation."

Johnson's concern about a possible new wage-price spiral,

President Has No Plans For Yule Trip to Viet

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has no plans to visit South Viet Nam at Christmas.

Very few people even conceived of Johnson journeying to the danger-ridden war zone, a bodyguard's nightmare, until publication this week of a report in Newsweek magazine that some presidential advisers were urging such a trip.

The White House lost little time in denying everything,

war in Viet Nam, has been evident for months.

It was this concern that prompted him to invite steel wage negotiators to the White House in late August to work out a new contract that would not do violence to federal wage-price guidelines.

The same concern prompted the President, acting through subordinates, to counter announced increases in aluminum and copper prices within the past month. Those price hikes were canceled.

Johnson himself has kept silent on prices in recent weeks. But his actions, as carried out by lesser officials, have signaled his deep concern.

$3,052,559 Given Ohio Hill Country

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Records of the Ohio Office of Economic Opportunity show that of the national budget of $2.3 billion to fight poverty, the state's 28 "hill country" Appalachia counties have been granted $3,052,559.

Indications that the stream of federal money into the Ohio Appalachia counties is slow came recently from Ohio University. There Milton Hyman, district director for the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity for Ohio, said many local officials are not digging deeply enough into the real poverty of their counties and bringing poor persons into their programs.

A survey showed that Holmes, one of the 28 counties and famous for its Amish farmers, Swiss cheese and trail bologna, has not received any antipoverty funds. Only antipoverty money received in two other counties, Highland and Carroll, has been $5,480 in Farm Home Administration loans.

Other Ohio officials point to the success of "head start" and "Neighborhood Youth Corps" projects, by far the most numerous of the antipoverty programs in the 28 Appalachia counties in Ohio have received any funds for community action committees, a total of $88,893. On paper, the counties are asking a total of $1,184,052,

U.S. Losses In Viet Fall

South Vietnamese Casualties High

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The destruction of South Viet Nam's 7th Regiment in savage fighting Saturday raised the Vietnamese weekly combat dead to 459, the government's second-highest toll of the war, a U.S. military spokesman announced today.

Another 185 government soldiers were missing in action and 861 were wounded, the spokesman said. The number of American dead dropped to 40 in the week ending last Saturday, the spokesman said. This compared with 240 Americans killed the previous week, the biggest U.S. casualty list since the United States began sending troops to Viet Nam nearly five years ago.

In addition, 117 Americans were wounded and five were missing. More than 1,300 Americans have been killed in the Viet Nam combat.

The U.S. toll last week was also far below the 70 and 86 Americans killed in the first two weeks of November.

No U.S. units engaged Communist forces of any size during the week, while the Viet Cong made at least two and possibly three regimental-sized attacks on Vietnamese units. Five other Communist attacks were of battalion size and four were of company size.

The spokesman said 1,539 Viet Cong were killed during the week, giving U.S. and government troops a favorable kill ratio of 3 to 1.

Many of the South Vietnamese soldiers fell in the devastating attack on the 7th Regiment on an abandoned French rubber plantation 45 miles northwest of Saigon Saturday. Some U.S. advisers were among the casualties.

No major ground action was reported today, but the Viet Cong kept up guerrilla pressure, striking before dawn at three small government outposts in the central highlands south of the big U.S. air base at Da Nang. Communications went dead with one of the camps.

Woman Convicted In Embezzlement

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Butler County Common Pleas Court Judge Fred B. Cramer today convicted Mrs. Elizabeth Tynes, 41-year-old mother of four, of embezzlement of $5,632 from the No. 2 Butler County Court at Fairfield.

Judge Cramer had tried the case without a jury.

He referred the case to the probation department and said he would pronounce sentence Dec. 15. Mrs. Tynes will remain free under $5,000 bond.

Mrs. Tynes testified Tuesday she did not know what happened to the money and denied taking it.

Marine Chief Blisters Carriers of Red Flag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marine commandant Gen. Wallace M. Greene has blistered Americans who carry the Communist Viet Cong flag.

"Obviously," he said Tuesday, "the display of an enemy flag alongside our own flag in the capital of our country in front of the White House, is an insult to every American, living and dead."

Power Plant To Zambia To Be Protected

LONDON (AP) — Britain will fight to protect the flow of power from the Kariba power plant in rebellious Rhodesia to the copper mines of neighboring Zambia, Prime Minister Wilson declared today.

While the white government of Rhodesia has said it has no intention of cutting off the power, Wilson told a packed House of Commons that Britain will take whatever action is necessary to protect the flow of electricity from the Kariba plan on the Zambian-Rhodesian border.

"If that did mean a limited (military) operation—we should be prepared to take that operation," he said.

As Wilson issued his warning, his government moved Royal Air Force planes and men to Kenya, ready for a quick entry into Zambia, which lies on breakaway Rhodesia's northern frontier.

Wilson said for reasons the British lawmakers would understand he was in no position to give a definite account of any arrangements reached with the Zambian government.

This represented confirmation of unofficial reports that President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia had objected to some of the terms imposed by Wilson on the deployment and purposes of any British force sent to Zambia.

Wilson disclosed that Commonwealth Relations Secretary Arthur Bottomley flew to Zambia's capital to discuss a further request by Kaunda's government for a battalion of British ground troops.

This, Wilson said, would be additional to Britain's offer of a force comprising a Royal Air Force squadron of Javelin fighters to be based in the copper belt city of Ndola and a ground element to be based in Lusaka, the capital.

9 Miles of Phone Wire Are Stolen

UKIAH, Calif. (AP) — When telephones suddenly stopped working in areas of Mendocino County during November, many residents were ready to stomp the telephone company offices to demand better service.

Sheriff's deputies reported Tuesday they had discovered the cause. Telephone wire had been clipped in remote spots and rolled up on spools to be sold as junk in the San Francisco area.

In all, nine miles of wire was snipped in five separate raids. Arrested and jailed on felony charges of cutting telephone lines were David Phillips, 18, of Carrollton, Ga.; and three Ukiah, Calif., men; Alex Hannan, 27, his brother James, 21, and John Shroyer, 26.

Ohioan Gets Money Back after 42 Years

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Ethel Miller received $45 in the mail recently, accompanied by an unsigned letter that read: "I believe this is the amount I found. Please forgive me, for it was badly needed."

"I do forgive him, oh, I do," said the suburban Rossford woman. "It must have preyed on his mind."

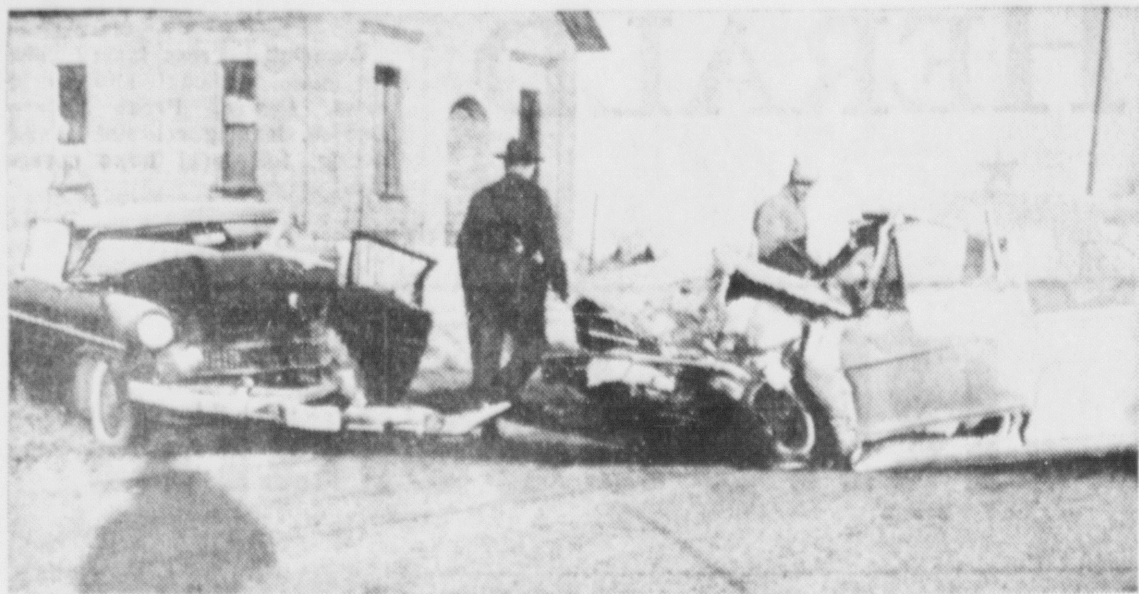

But Mrs. Miller thinks the debt has been overpaid. She believes there was only $29 in her purse when she lost it in 1923.

BLOWOUT — Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Homer Adams reported this head-on collision that occurred near Five Points today was apparently caused by the blowout of the left front tire of one of the autos. One man was hospitalized as a result of the accident.

Motorist Is Hospitalized After 2-Auto Accident

An elderly Mt. Sterling resident was hospitalized today as a result of a two-car accident that occurred at 7:30 a. m. on the Williamsport-Palestine Road about two miles north of Five Points.

Edgar Brooks who was 73 today, one of the motorists, was admitted to Mt. Carmel hospital. He sustained a fractured left shoulder, lacerations of the face and leg.

Danny Conley the driver of the other car involved in the accident, was treated for lacerations of the chin and knees, bruises and abrasions and was released.

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Homer Adams reported the accident apparently was caused by the blowout of the left front tire on Brooks' automobile.

Conley, who was going to work, told the deputy Brooks' automobile suddenly swerved left of center as he approached. He was unable to avoid a collision.

Sheriff Adams indicated that Brooks will be charged with traveling left of center.

U.S. A-Bombs Abroad Said 'Tin Cans' Until Armed

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadian officials said today the U. S. nuclear bombs on planes of other Atlantic Alliance nations are nothing more than tin cans until U. S. teams arm them on instructions from the U. S. President.

They said nuclear bombs are slung under a certain number of Canadian and West German F104 Starfighter jets in West Germany when the planes are on what is known as "quick action alert."

Man Gets Two Terms in Prison

A Commercial Point man was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary today by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer.

Kenneth Siders pleaded guilty to charges of forcible entry of a building and grand larceny. He was sentenced 1 - 15 years and 1-7 years. Judge Ammer noted the sentences are to run concurrently.

Siders appeared before the court on a bill of information supplied by Prosecuting Attorney Robert H. Huffer.

City Police Continue Probe Of Burglary

Circleville Police today continued to press their investigation of the burglary at Boyer's Restaurant and Burton's gift shop discovered early yesterday morning.

Patrolman Larry Pontious, who is handling the investigation along with Patrolman Wesley Barton, noted today fingerprints taken in the gift shop are being given a thorough investigation. Officers from the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation are assisting the local department.

Another illegal entry was discovered by Barton at 5 a. m. today. Making a routine check of the Masonic Temple on South Court St., the city policeman observed the door was unlocked.

An investigation indicated nothing was missing.

Girls' Reform School Plans Are Unveiled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Youth Commission today made public its plans for Ohio's newest reform school for girls to be constructed just northwest of Columbus.

The $1.5 million institution will be called Riverview School for Girls and will be constructed not far from the Scioto River along Ohio 745 about seven miles north of Dublin, in Delaware County.

Construction is expected to begin in June of next year with buildings ready for occupancy in July of 1967.

The new school will be directly across the road from the present Scioto Village, formerly called the Girls Industrial School. It will be an entirely separate institution, Youth Commission officials said. Older girls considered incorrigibles will be housed there and, unlike Scioto Village, it will be enclosed by a fence. Plans now call for it to house 150 girls.

Money for the new institution will come from the $290 million bond issue approved by Ohio voters last May.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI will take part in an interdenominational service Saturday in which many of the 99 Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox observers at the Vatican Ecumenical Council will participate.

Catholics and non-Catholics will pray together in the basilica of St. Paul, outside the walls, for Christian unity. They will recite prayers aloud in unison, listen to scripture readings and sing hymns.

The council in its 1964 decree on Christian unity set guidelines for Roman Catholics in interfaith dealings with other Christians. Vatican sources said the service may set the pattern for future joint services at every level.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A plane belonging to the Royal Jordanian Airlines (Alia) was sabotaged at Beirut airport Monday and was unable to fly to Amman as scheduled, police reported today.

The engines of the plane, believed to be a new French Caravelle jet, were tampered with, the police said. They gave no details, and it was not known who was responsible for the damage.

Police said the crew and 37 passengers were aboard the aircraft when the pilot discovered the sabotage. The passengers left for Amman later aboard another plane.

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Gov. George Romney declared Tuesday that, if necessary, Michigan would match any other state's money bid in competition for a $300 million national proton accelerator laboratory.

Romney made the promise to a five-man Atomic Energy Commission team inspecting two proposed Michigan sites for the project, which is sought by 45 states.

Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes has pledged $10 million in state funds to the project if one of three proposed Ohio sites is selected.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A call for more Asian countries to send troops to South Viet Nam to fight the Communists has come from South Korea's foreign minister, Lee Tong-won.

Lee said Tuesday after talking with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara the size of the free Asian contingents was not important.

"But sending troops to support your anti-Communist policy creates the impression of a united free Asian camp against the Communist challenge," he said.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—President Mohammed Ayub Khan said today that his meeting with President Johnson Dec. 14 will be "a quest for peace."

In a recorded broadcast, Ayub said that while Pakistan is "engaged in mobilizing our resources and gearing our economy to preparedness for defense, we are not neglectful of the fundamental aim of our policies, namely the pursuit of peace."

"It will be in this quest for peace that I shall be proceeding to the United States where I shall be addressing the United Nations, meeting President Johnson in response to a long standing invitation from him."

not stand idly by if Rhodesia were to cut the power supplies that flow from the Kariba Dam to Zambia," Wilson said.

The dam is on the border but the power station lies inside Rhodesia.

Kaunda asked Britain to send troops after the power line from the dam to the Zambian copper belt was sabotaged last week. Kaunda said otherwise he would have to seek help elsewhere.

Wilson had planned to go before the House of Commons Tuesday night to announce that troops were on the way. But a last-minute hitch developed, apparently over British insistence that the troops should be used only on the Zambian side of the frontier.

Some reports said Kaunda or some members of his Cabinet insisted that the dam can be protected only if British troops are stationed on the Rhodesian side of the big power installation.

Some sources said Wilson had been reluctant to have British troops stationed near the border because he feared incidents might occur accidentally that would increase the bitterness between the British and Rhodesian governments.

Pickaway Grange

STAR

Star Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium with Flem Blair, master protem, presiding over the business session.

The secretary, Helen Schleich, read "thank you" notes from Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reid for cards and flowers sent to their son, Bradley, while he was in the hospital and Mrs. Paul Dawson. Recognition was received from the National Grange Youth group for the grange's contribution. It was also announced that the aprons for the veterans are to be taken to the banquet on Dec. 4. This will be a dinner program at 6:30 p. m. at the 4-H and Grange Building. All Subordinate members are urged to attend.

Mrs. Francis Furniss, Home Economics chairman thanked all who donated food and helped serve Pomona Grange on Nov. 6. She also announced that Star Grange would serve lunch at the Bloodmobile in Circleville.

Mrs. Furniss opened the program with a reading, "Thanksgiving Day." Mrs. Paul Dawson read, "November" and Mrs. Ernestine Dudley read "Thanksgiving." Mrs. Clark Dennis closed the program with a reading "Thank You."

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fisher from Scioto Valley Grange and delegates to the State Grange Convention in Toledo were present and gave a very interesting report.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Loring Stoer, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Overly, Mrs. Richard Styer, Mr. C. M. Stoer and Mrs. Marguerite Snyder. The next meeting will be held Dec. 14, and will feature a covered dish dinner at 7 p. m. and the annual Christmas party. All members are urged to attend. There will be a gift exchange.

Increased Tax Settlement Does Not Solve LE Problem

The increase in the October personal property tax settlement received at Logan Elm School District, "is a big help but does not answer the problem," John Henn, LE executive head, said today.

In the October distribution of the personal property tax announced by the Pickaway County Auditor's office, it was noted the school district received an increase of $42,762.26 over last year.

The increase was "not anticipated" according to Henn, who pointed out the district will still need the additional four mill levy it is seeking. The levy is to be voted on Tuesday in a special election.

The district received $152,102.99 according to the auditor's office.

HOWEVER, Auditor Marvinne Rhoades, pointed out that $31,094.79 was to be used for bond retirement. The school district had also made advance draws totaling $40,000 she said.

These amounts were deducted by the auditor.

Out of the remaining funds, payroll and expenses for November and December must be met.

John Henn noted the monthly payroll in the school district is $28,433. Operating expenses for November were $5,913 and will be about the same for December.

With the advance draw, the bond retirement funds, payroll and operating expenses deducted, there will be an estimated $12,316 balance at the end of the year. This is not a large enough balance to meet expenses, Henn pointed out.

Had the district not realized the increase in income, the board of education would have been forced to borrow money to meet expenses, according to the LE executive head.

Cuban Refugee Airlift Slated To Start Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban refugees start streaming into the United States today in one of the most extensive airlifts of its kind in history.

The first airliner in the scheduled daily movement was expected to land in Miami this afternoon with 93 Cubans.

Between 800 and 1,000 refugees are expected weekly starting next week. The air lift, the product of negotiations between the U. S. and Cuban governments, is to continue indefinitely. Most of the exiles are to be transferred to cities throughout the nation.

One flight daily is expected this week and two flights daily after that. Sundays and possibly Saturdays will be excluded.

Refugees qualifying for the migration program are those with relatives in this country. Parents of children in the United States will be given preference, a U. S. official said.

Today's flight was the first between Cuba and the United States by commercial airlines since June 1963. The U. S. government is paying the refugees' fares.

The flights, between Vera-dero, Cuba, and Miami, followed boat lifts from Camarioca and Matanzas, Cuba, to Key West, Fla., which brought more than 3,000 refugees. The final boatload of 18 men, 42 women and 23 children reached Key West Tuesday night aboard the U. S.-chartered Skipper K.

This migration followed a September 28 offer by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to remove departure restrictions. The restrictions continued, in the case of youths of military age, physicians and some technicians.

Nine airlines are to alternate in flying in refugees. The first, Pan American World Airways, will transport them till Christmas.

Quakers To Seek Viet Peace Corps

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP) — Volunteers to work in Viet Nam as a Peace Corps-type group will be recruited by the American Friends (Quakers) Service Committee, an Oberlin businessman said Tuesday.

Alternatives to the current United States policy in Viet Nam also will be offered by the AFSC, Bronson P. Clark, businessman and an AFSC director said.

REGULAR CHECKUPS
Q. We are all urged to have regular physical checkups. How successful are such examinations in discovering what, if anything, is wrong?
A. They are successful enough to be very much worth while. A study conducted at the University of Pennsylvania showed that regular physical examinations succeeded in detecting 50 per cent of patients suffering from the early stages of potentially fatal disease. The Pennsylvania medical team found this to be true by analyzing the causes of death of 350 executives who had submitted themselves to regular medical checkups.

"DEVIL'S PINCHES"
Q. I bruise very easily. Could this be due to a vitamin deficiency?
A. If there is no blood disorder to account for the bruising tendency (and this can be determined only by your doctor), the condition, sometimes called "Devil's Pinches," may be considered harmless. Most doctors question the effectiveness of vitamins in improving this tendency.

Answers appearing in these columns are of necessity brief and general and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all physicians. Remember—the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

BLOWOUT — Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Homer Adams reported this head-on collision that occurred near Five Points today was apparently caused by the blowout of the left front tire of one of the autos. One man was hospitalized as a result of the accident.

Motorist Is Hospitalized After 2-Auto Accident

An elderly Mt. Sterling resident was hospitalized today as a result of a two-car accident that occurred at 7:30 a. m. on the Williamsport-Palestine Road about two miles north of Five Points.

Edgar Brooks who was 73 today, one of the motorists, was admitted to Mt. Carmel hospital. He sustained a fractured left shoulder, lacerations of the face and leg.

Danny Conley the driver of the other car involved in the accident, was treated for lacerations of the chin and knees.

bruises and abrasions and was released.

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Homer Adams reported the accident apparently was caused by the blowout of the left front tire on Brooks' automobile.

Conley, who was going to work, told the deputy Brooks' automobile suddenly swerved left of center as he approached. He was unable to avoid a collision.

Sheriff Adams indicated that Brooks will be charged with traveling left of center.

U.S. A-Bombs Abroad Said 'Tin Cans' Until Armed

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadian officials said today the U. S. nuclear bombs on planes of other Atlantic Alliance nations are nothing more than tin cans until U. S. teams arm them on instructions from the U. S. President.

They said nuclear bombs are slung under a certain number of Canadian and West German F104 Starfighter jets in West Germany when the planes are on what is known as "quick action alert."

The bombs are useless until they are armed with various secret mechanical and electronic devices which can be operated only by the U. S. custody team and the U. S. nuclear officer, the officials said.

In addition, the planes are guarded by armed U. S. sentries in "pens" behind closed doors, they said. The pilots stay near the planes but not in them.

The planes do not take off unless war starts, whether the bombs are armed or unarmed, the officials said. The alert is to prevent the planes being destroyed on the ground.

The Canadian sources said the same arrangements apply to West Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries that have bilateral nuclear agreements with the United States.

They said American nuclear warheads of up to 60 kilotons — equivalent to 60,000 tons of TNT — have been stored since last year at the Zweibrücken and Baden-Soellingen Canadian air bases in West Germany.

The warheads are firmly in the custody and control of American personnel and can be used only on the authority of U. S. personnel, the officials said. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told a meeting of NATO defense ministers in Paris Saturday that there are now 5,000 U. S. nuclear warheads in Europe and their number is being increased continuously.

Man Gets Two Terms in Prison

A Commercial Point man was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary today by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer.

Kenneth Siders pleaded guilty to charges of forcible entry of a building and grand larceny. He was sentenced 1 - 15 years and 1-7 years. Judge Ammer noted the sentences are to run concurrently.

Siders appeared before the court on a bill of information supplied by Prosecuting Attorney Robert H. Huffer.

Musical Toy Taken

John Magill, owner of the Western Auto Store on W. Main St., reported a small electric toy organ has been taken from his store, Circleville Police said today.

City Police Continue Probe Of Burglary

Circleville Police today continued to press their investigation of the burglary at Boyer's Restaurant and Burton's gift shop discovered early yesterday morning.

Patrolman Larry Pontious, who is handling the investigation along with Patrolman Wesley Barton, noted today fingerprints taken in the gift shop are being given a thorough investigation. Officers from the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation are assisting the local department.

Another illegal entry was discovered by Barton at 5 a. m. today. Making a routine check of the Masonic Temple on South Court St., the city policeman observed the door was unlocked.

An investigation indicated nothing was missing.

Girls' Reform School Plans Are Unveiled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Youth Commission today made public its plans for Ohio's newest reform school for girls to be constructed just northwest of Columbus.

The $1.5 million institution will be called Riverview School for Girls and will be constructed not far from the Scioto River along Ohio 745 about seven miles north of Dublin, in Delaware County.

Construction is expected to begin in June of next year with buildings ready for occupancy in July of 1967.

The new school will be directly across the road from the present Scioto Village, formerly called the Girls Industrial School. It will be an entirely separate institution, Youth Commission officials said. Older girls considered incorrigibles will be housed there and, unlike Scioto Village, it will be enclosed by a fence. Plans now call for it to house 150 girls.

Money for the new institution will come from the $290 million bond issue approved by Ohio voters last May.

Red Cross Group To Meet Monday

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes reported today that a new plastics plant employing about 100 persons and to cost about $2 million will be established in "the general Columbus area."

The governor declined to disclose the name of the firm or the exact location of the plant, explaining the company will make an announcement "probably next week."

SALEM, Ohio (AP)—An elderly Salem couple and a 25-year-old Columbiana County woman died today in early morning fires at their homes.

Firemen said Gottfried Ryser, 82, and his wife, Martha, 76, apparently died of smoke inhalation.

Miss Connie Hickman, 25, who resided about 20 miles east of here, also was dead on arrival at Salem City Hospital, apparently from smoke inhalation firemen said. Her father, Henry Hickman, was reported in fair condition this morning.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department has dropped its flat monthly auto allowance paid to 22 process servers.

The decision was made by Sheriff James McGettrick Tuesday following a meeting with State Auditor Roger Cloud in Columbus. The allowances amounted to more than $30,000 yearly.

Dropping the allowance means that deputies no longer will pick up $125 regardless of how many miles they drive.

McGettrick's action came after an article in the Cleveland Plain Dealer which disclosed that the practice of paying the flat $125 allowance was illegal.

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Gov. George Romney declared Tuesday that, if necessary, Michigan would bid any other state's money match in competition for a $300 million national proton accelerator laboratory.

Romney made the promise to a five-man Atomic Energy Commission team inspecting two proposed Michigan sites for the project, which is sought by 45 states.

Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes has pledged $10 million in state funds to the project if one of three proposed Ohio sites is selected.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A call for more Asian countries to send troops to South Viet Nam to fight the Communists has come from South Korea's foreign minister, Lee Tong-won.

Lee said Tuesday after talking with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara the size of the free Asian contingents was not important.

"But sending troops to support your anti-Communist policy creates the impression of a united free Asian camp against the Communist challenge," he said.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—President Mohammed Ayub Khan said today that his meeting with President Johnson Dec. 14 will be "a quest for peace."

In a recorded broadcast, Ayub said that while Pakistan is "engaged in mobilizing our resources and gearing our economy to preparedness for defense, we are not neglectful of the fundamental aim of our policies, namely the pursuit of peace."

"It will be in this quest for peace that I shall be proceeding to the United States where I shall be addressing the United Nations, meeting President Johnson in response to a long standing invitation from him."

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Alex Sellock, owner of a downtown shop, says he was trying to fit an attractive young lady with a pair of fur-lined boots when she pointed a small pistol at him and ordered him into the storeroom. Then she made off with $50 from the cash register.

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin's eight daily newspapers called on the city's people to send special Christmas messages to American families who have lost sons in the Viet Nam war.

The papers said West Berliners should send the bereaved Americans replicas of the city's Freedom Bell to express West Berlin's sympathy with the United States.

The papers also called for donations to buy medical supplies for the people of South Viet Nam.

LONDON (AP)—A bill to Ease Britain's abortion law cleared the House of Lords Tuesday night and was sent to the House of Commons. The vote was 67-8.

The bill would legalize abortion when the expectant mother's physical or mental health is endangered, if there is danger of the baby being badly deformed, if pregnancy is the result of criminal rape, or of social conditions make it unsuitable for the mother to assume responsibility for the child.

The present abortion law, passed in 1861, makes it illegal to terminate a pregnancy except when the mother's life is at stake.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will take part in an interdenominational service Saturday in which many of the 99 Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox observers at the Vatican Ecumenical Council will participate.

Catholics and non-Catholics will pray together in the basilica of St. Paul, outside the walls, for Christian unity. They will recite prayers aloud in unison, listen to scripture readings and sing hymns.

The council in its 1964 decree on Christian unity set guidelines for Roman Catholics in interfaith dealings with other Christians. Vatican sources said the service may set the pattern for future joint services at every level.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A plane belonging to the Royal Jordanian Airlines (Alia) was sabotaged at Beirut airport Monday and was unable to fly to Amman as scheduled, police reported today.

The engines of the plane, believed to be a new French Caravelle jet, were tampered with, the police said. They gave no details, and it was not known who was responsible for the damage.

Police said the crew and 37 passengers were aboard the aircraft when the pilot discovered the sabotage. The passengers left for Amman later aboard another plane.

Power Plant

not stand idly by if Rhodesia were to cut the power supplies that flow from the Kariba Dam to Zambia," Wilson said.

The dam is on the border but the power station lies inside Rhodesia.

Kaunda asked Britain to send troops after the power line from the dam to the Zambian copper belt was sabotaged last week. Kaunda said otherwise he would have to seek help elsewhere.

Wilson had planned to go before the House of Commons Tuesday night to announce that troops were on the way. But a last-minute hitch developed, apparently over British insistence that the troops should be used only on the Zambian side of the frontier.

Some reports said Kaunda or some members of his Cabinet insisted that the dam can be protected only if British troops are stationed on the Rhodesian side of the big power installation.

Some sources said Wilson had been reluctant to have British troops stationed near the border because he feared incidents might occur accidentally that would increase the bitterness between the British and Rhodesian governments.

Pickaway Grange

STAR

Star Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium with Flem Blair, master pro'em, presiding over the business session.

The secretary, Helen Schleich, read "thank you" notes from Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reid for cards and flowers sent to their son, Bradley, while he was in the hospital and Mrs. Paul Dawson. Recognition was received from the National Grange Youth group for the grange's contribution. It was also announced that the aprons for the veterans are to be taken to the banquet on Dec. 4. This will be a dinner program at 6:30 p. m. at the 4-H and Grange Building. All subordinate members are urged to attend.

Mrs. Francis Furniss, Home Economics chairman thanked all who donated food and helped serve Pomona Grange on Nov. 6. She also announced that Star Grange would serve lunch at the Bloodmobile in Circleville.

Mrs. Furniss opened the program with a reading, "Thanksgiving Day." Mrs. Paul Dawson read, "November" and Mrs. Ernestine Dudleyson read "Thanksgiving." Mrs. Clark Dennis closed the program with a reading "Thank You."

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fisher from Scioto Valley Grange and delegates to the State Grange Convention in Toledo were present and gave a very interesting report.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Loring Stoe, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Overly, Mrs. Richard Styer, Mr. C. M. Stoe and Mrs. Marguerite Snyder. The next meeting will be held Dec. 14, and will feature a covered dish dinner at 7 p. m. and the annual Christmas party. All members are urged to attend. There will be a gift exchange.

Increased Tax Settlement Does Not Solve LE Problem

The increase in the October personal property tax settlement received at Logan Elm School District, "is a big help but does not answer the problem," John Henn, LE executive head, said today.

In the October distribution of the personal property tax announced by the Pickaway County Auditor's office, it was noted the school district received an increase of $42,762.26 over last year.

The increase was "not anticipated" according to Henn, who pointed out the district will still need the additional four mill levy it is seeking. The levy is to be voted on Tuesday in a special election.

The district received $152,102.99 according to the auditor's office.

HOWEVER, Auditor Marvyn Rhoades, pointed out that $31,094.79 was to be used for bond retirement. The school district had also made advance draws totaling $40,000 she said.

These amounts were deducted by the auditor.

Out of the remaining funds, payroll and expenses for November and December must be met.

John Henn noted the monthly payroll in the school district is $28,433. Operating expenses for November were $5,913 and will be about the same for December.

With the advance draw, the bond retirement funds, payroll and operating expenses deducted, there will be an estimated $12,316 balance at the end of the year. This is not a large enough balance to meet expenses, Henn pointed out.

Had the district not realized the increase in income, the board of education would have been forced to borrow money to meet expenses, according to the LE executive head.

Space Age City

Land available for population growth is not yet a problem in North America, except in some of the larger metropolitan centers. But in Europe and many other parts of the world it is.

All manner of restrictions have been imposed on residential construction in those areas to keep what land remains free for agricultural purposes.

Britain is rapidly becoming a classic European example of a country whose population continues to grow, but which already is deficient in acreage to feed itself. With this frustrating background, it is not as fantastic as it might otherwise seem for a British engineer to recommend building a city to house 500,000 in a single structure two miles high.

Wilem Frischmann, member of a London consulting firm, is serious in presenting his answer to sprawling cities. He points out that structural cements have been greatly improved since the end of World War II.

While the Briton does not deny mammoth size problems would have to be overcome in constructing his conception of a self-sufficient dream city, 850 stories high, he is convinced modern technology can surmount them if given the initiative to do so.

In support of his sky-high city, Frischmann says it would cost less to build than horizontal residences for half a million inhabitants, it would avoid the traffic congestion and land which would be needed for highways to support a normal city this size, and it would effect many economies for businesses, factories and other enterprises housed in it by providing reduced building costs.

And most important, it would leave 100 square miles of land available for food production which otherwise would go for construction of a horizontal city. As a clincher, the engineer points out that most of the residents would be living above weather clouds. In Britain, this inducement is on an equal footing with land savings and other economies.

NEW YORK (AP) — Prosperity and rising employment are combining to put a bind on that once all but limitless market, the part-time or seasonal worker. Many stores are finding it harder this year to get competent extra help to handle the December rush of shoppers.

At the other end of the scale, prosperity and a tighter labor market are making it harder to fill highly skilled jobs, especially in those industries where discoveries, new techniques and products seem to be almost an everyday occurrence.

The Sunday papers are crammed with ads from employers looking for the right man or woman to fill the highly specialized jobs. Often, it's becoming a matter of luring personnel away from other companies or other sections of the nation.

At the less esoteric level, the supplying of the hordes of extra hands to meet the retail shopping spree, the problem is of a different order.

In the past, housewives have been a mainstay. They worked for a few weeks, used the extra income to handle troublesome bills or to furnish welcome pin money for their own holiday gift shopping.

Some merchants report that this year prosperity in the form of larger paychecks for the family breadwinner apparently has made many housewives who used to apply for the December

690 Volunteers Aid 12-Year Study In Laboratory of Sexual Response

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Twelve years of sex research by two scientists at Washington University here may provide answers to what they call some of the most perplexing problems of the 20th century.

Dr. William H. Masters, a gynecologist, and his assistant, Virginia Johnson, will publish a book early next year on their findings in the heretofore unexplored field of human sexual response.

Just as Alfred C. Kinsey explored sex sociologically, Dr. Masters and Mrs. Johnson have explored it physiologically, in the laboratory, with 690 volunteers.

Some of the problems to which their research may find answers are the sex life of older persons, sexual inadequacy, and a safe sex life for cardiac and hypertension patients. They say they also have developed the first natural contraceptive that can be injected.

"The most important thing to come out of this research is knowledge that human sexual response can be directly investigated," Masters said.

Kinsey's research answered questions on the what and why of sex. The research of the Washington University team answers the "how" questions.

"Medicine has never before tackled the problem of what happens to the body during sexual experience," Masters said.

The research began in 1954 and was not publicized until this year, although the team published 25 articles in medical journals.

The work became known because of criticism. Dr. Leslie T. Farber of Washington, D.C., a psychoanalyst, criticized the St. Louis experiments in a commentary magazine, saying the researchers were "scientizing" sex and reaching possible false answers due to taking sex out of its total context in the laboratory atmosphere.

Masters calls this fair criticism, but contends that the body and mind are the same, no matter what the context. Also, he says he does not intend to waste time defending himself against criticism.

"I am interested only in turning the tide of misinformation about sexuality," he said.

The volunteers, primarily married couples from a cross-section of the population of this metropolitan area, are carefully screened and interviewed. Half are rejected. Those accepted attend orientation sessions with Masters and Mrs. Johnson.

During the research, the team has treated frigidity and impotence, which Masters calls basic factors of divorce. Results of these treatments will not be announced until the scientists have completed five-year histories of a meaningful number of patients.

"Our first cases were right out of divorce courts," Masters said. "The first year we treated 27 pairs and we have treated several hundred since. We don't consider the treatment successful unless the results are lasting. On the basis of the fifth-year report, we have learned that 24 of the first 27 pairs considered the treatment successful."

The laboratory contains color movie cameras and considerable scientific apparatus, including electrocardiographs and brain-wave and biochemical equipment.

After observing 7,500 female sexual stimulations and 2,500 in men, the team believes it now can advise doctors what to tell cardiac patients about their sex lives. They can tell members of the growing "over-50" population that they can have normal sexual experience. They can advise pregnant women on sexual problems.

In their study of conception and contraception, the researchers said they discovered a sperm-killing vaginal substance in certain women. When injected, it kills sperm in 10 seconds, Masters said. Since this would be a natural contraceptive substance, Masters believes it might meet some religious objections.

Masters, 50 and bald, did pioneer work in sex steroid field before beginning research on sexual response. He is married and has two children. Mrs. Johnson, 40, studied psychology and sociology but had no advanced degree. She was divorced a year before she joined the research group.

Masters started the first class in sexual response at Washington University Medical School five years ago. Since then, 25 other medical schools have started the course.

Washington University was the first medical school to allow sex research. Masters is an associate professor in obstetrics and gynecology.

Masters and Mrs. Johnson, with the aid of dozens of scientists and St. Louis civic leaders, have founded the Reproductive Biology Research Foundation, a nonprofit agency financed by private donations and grants.

Masters and Mrs. Johnson have a demanding schedule of research, writing and speaking to medical groups from coast to coast on their research. Masters also has a private practice in gynecology. Letters pour in from the public, but they had no time to answer them.

Their book, to be published in April by Little, Brown & Co., is entitled "Human Sexual Response". A second book, "Human Sexual Inadequacy", will include their findings on frigidity and impotence.

Masters and Mrs. Johnson declined to discuss their findings in detail prior to the publication of the book.

The books, Masters and Mrs. Johnson hope, will be as helpful to ministers and sociologists who help people with their problems, as to the medical profession.

The presence of both sexes in the laboratory has made it easier to work with the 378 women and 312 men who have taken part in the experiments, Masters said. Ages range from 18 to 89.

Masters says he expects some criticism from the general public. "The opposition is cultural in its base line," he said, "from those who have uncomfortable and fearful feelings about sex." He said the only real question is whether the field of sexual response should or should not be researched. Masters and Washington University believe it should be.

Masters said the local medical profession generally favors the work, but there are some doctors who do not agree that the field of sexuality should be subjected to science. Masters said the opposition is not formidable.

On the wall of Masters' office hangs a quotation that sums up his attitude toward criticism:

"It is certainly not the obligation of science to explain every thing. We must collect the facts. Once the facts have been assembled, the explanation emerges of itself."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

FOR HIS BIRTHDAY, a Philadelphia merchant received from his wife a group photograph of her entire family (eighteen persons in all), in a sterling silver frame. What to do with this marvelous gift? The ingenious banker solved the problem. He took the photograph to his office and gave it to his receptionist. "Study this picture well," he instructed her, "and if anybody in it ever comes to this office, say I've gone to Tokyo on business."

A sad-faced man limped into a doctor's office, and with a grimace of pain laboriously removed his shoes and socks, revealing shins that were black and blue. "You've certainly been banged up," commiserated the doctor. "I presume you're a professional hockey or football player?" "Certainly not," sighed the man. "All I play is bridge with my wife as a partner."

QUICKIES:

At an overcrowded discotheque, during a momentary lull in the ear-splitting music, a clumsy waiter spilled a trayful of crockery. Eight couples jumped up and began dancing.

Bandits staged a brazen holdup at a star-studded fund-raising dinner. They made off with fifty dollars in cash and two hundred thousand dollars in pledges.

Land available for population growth is not yet a problem in North America, except in some of the larger metropolitan centers. But in Europe and many other parts of the world it is.

All manner of restrictions have been imposed on residential construction in those areas to keep what land remains free for agricultural purposes.

Britain is rapidly becoming a classic European example of a country whose population continues to grow, but which already is deficient in acreage to feed itself. With this frustrating background, it is not as fantastic as it might otherwise seem for a British engineer to recommend building a city to house 500,000 in a single structure two miles high.

Wilem Frischmann, member of a London consulting firm, is serious in presenting his answer to sprawling cities. He points out that structural cements have been greatly improved since the end of World War II.

While the Briton does not deny mammoth size problems would have to be overcome in constructing his conception of a self-sufficient dream city, 450 stories high, he is convinced modern technology can surmount them if given the initiative to do so.

In support of his sky-high city, Frischmann says it would cost less to build than horizontal residences for half a million inhabitants, it would avoid the traffic congestion and land which would be needed for highways to support a normal city this size, and it would effect many economies for businesses, factories and other enterprises housed in it by providing reduced building costs.

And most important, it would leave 100 square miles of land available for food production which otherwise would go for construction of a horizontal city. As a clincher, the engineer points out that most of the residents would be living above weather clouds. In Britain, this inducement is on an equal footing with land savings and other economies.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Prosperity and rising employment are combining to put a bind on that once all but limitless market, the part-time or seasonal worker. Many stores are finding it harder this year to get competent extra help to handle the December rush of shoppers.

At the other end of the scale, prosperity and a tighter labor market are making it harder to fill highly skilled jobs, especially in those industries where discoveries, new techniques and products seem to be almost an everyday occurrence.

The Sunday papers are crammed with ads from employers looking for the right man or woman to fill the highly specialized jobs. Often, it's becoming a matter of luring personnel away from other companies or other sections of the nation.

At the less esoteric level, the supplying of the hordes of extra hands to meet the retail shopping spree, the problem is of a different order.

In the past, housewives have been a mainstay. They worked for a few weeks, used the extra income to handle troublesome bills or to furnish welcome pin money for their own holiday gift shopping.

Some merchants report that this year prosperity in the form of larger paychecks for the family breadwinner apparently has made many housewives who used to apply for the December jobs stay at home. They don't need the extra money as much as they need to rest their feet.

Also, higher pay scales in many lines have made the part-time wage scales look puny by comparison. The part-time worker is getting choosy.

And in the big cities, the downtown stores report that many of their housewife-type helpers of yesteryear have moved to the suburbs and aren't interested any more.

The problem, of course, isn't confined just to December. Retail stores have complained for some time that the higher pay in jobs that women also think have higher status, such as office work, has crimped the market for clerks.

On the Variability of Women

NEW YORK (AP) — Everything changes in this world—but nothing changes more than women.

Compared to the variability of women, chameleons are rank amateurs.

Clouds change endlessly. So do waves upon the sea, and colors on the landscape. But none change more than women's moods.

Many things make surface changes in women — such things as cosmetics, hairdos, hats, eye makeup, girdles and different skirt lengths.

But none affects the inner girl. Inside she is still the same — that is, until she marries. Then she seems to explode in all directions.

"Is this the same sweet girl I courted?" her wondering husband asks. "I feel like I'm living with a total stranger."

He has made the discovery that all husbands make sooner or later: nothing seems to change a girl more than marriage.

Before marriage she liked to walk miles with you. After marriage her arches begin to break down if you can't get her a cab within half a block.

Once she said, "I want you to stay just as you are. I don't want you ever to be any different." But when the glory of the honeymoon fades, she says, "In the name of high heaven, aren't you ever going to grow up?"

Before marriage she murmured anxiously, "If you really don't like my cooking, please tell me." After marriage she barks, "If you don't like the way I burned your TV dinner, go out in the refrigerator and thaw out another one. Then you can burn it any way you like it."

Before marriage she exclaimed prettily, "Oh, how did you know it was my birthday?"

After marriage she storms, "How could you forget it was my birthday? After all, it comes only once a year."

There was a time when she thought your relatives were charming. Now, if one of the kids even develops a runny nose, she remarks, "It must come from your side of the family. My family was always healthy."

She used to plan about how she'd help you carry out your life's dreams. Now all she wants you to carry out is the garbage.

An ancient proverb warns girls, "Don't marry a man to reform him. You'll never be able to change him."

An opposite warning might be given to young bachelors: "Don't marry a girl if you expect her to stay the same. Marriage will change her more than anything. And nothing you can do will stop it."

If an adult is exposed to mumps can he be protected against complications?

One of the serious complications of mumps in a male adult is an inflammation of the testicles, called orchitis.

If there is a positive exposure, the early use of a special type of "hyperimmune gamma globulin" is imperative. The usual gamma globulin is not effective protection. One attack of mumps during childhood usually makes an adult immune to further attacks. Unfortunately, the past history of a child is sometimes forgotten or confused.

Many adults do not really know if they have had mumps. This is an additional reason why a definite family chart of all infectious and contagious diseases should be recorded and kept available for reference.

Should nails be coated with a safe, bad-tasting chemical if children persist in biting them?

Nail biting cannot be cured by punishing or shaming a child or covering the nails with expensive "protective cures."

Nail biting is a symptom of some underlying, psychological need. The exact cause must be sought by a psychologist. Under his direction the nail biting will usually subside, especially when the subconscious need is satisfied.

Occasionally, a child who is really not disturbed will bite her nails, copying and mimicking an adult's habit. When this is the case the nail biting is more readily controlled by gentle persuasion without nagging or scolding.

Is pleurisy of the lungs like tuberculosis or pneumonia?

The pleura is a fine membrane that lines the entire chest cavity that houses the lungs. Another layer of pleura covers the lung itself. When we breathe, the lungs expand and the layers of the pleura pass over each other gently and smoothly.

When there is severe infection like tuberculosis or pneumonia, the pleural lining itself may become inflamed and irritated. This is one form of pleurisy. The pain of pleurisy

"So what, Helen? A little boy scout offered to help you cross the street!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

FOR HIS BIRTHDAY, a Philadelphia merchant received from his wife a group photograph of her entire family (eighteen persons in all), in a sterling silver frame. What to do with this marvelous gift? The ingenious banker solved the problem. He took the photograph to his office and gave it to his receptionist. "Study this picture well," he instructed her, "and if anybody in it ever comes to this office, say I've gone to Tokyo on business."

A sad-faced man limped into a doctor's office, and with a grimace of pain laboriously removed his shoes and socks, revealing shins that were black and blue. "You've certainly been banged up," commiserated the doctor. "I presume you're a professional hockey or football player?" "Certainly not," sighed the man. "All I play is bridge with my wife as a partner."

QUICKIES:
At an overcrowded discotheque, during a momentary lull in the ear-splitting music, a clumsy waiter spilled a trayful of crockery. Eight couples jumped up and began dancing.
Bandits staged a brazen holdup at a star-studded fund-raising dinner. They made off with fifty dollars in cash and two hundred thousand dollars in pledges.

Caveman Leaves Substantial Estate

WHEELER, Tex. (AP) — Noble Chancey Myers, who lived in a cave much of his 85 years, died on a bed of burlap bags Monday, but he owned the bed and the 320 acres around it.

Myers, who said he had worked in Paris, watched bullfights in Spain and punched cattle on the pampas of the Argentine, returned to the cave on his half section of land 12 miles north of this Panhandle town for at least a few months each year.

In another cave, friends found a metal box containing the title to Myers' land, a bank book

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — The breakaway Rhodesian regime has served to strengthen Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah's position at home and in the rest of Africa.

Mobilization of Ghana's armed forces — including recruitment of an unpaid militia just started — will require belt-tightening by the people, Nkrumah says.

from a Wheeler bank showing a balance of $20,000, a will and other papers, Sheriff Bus Dorman estimated value of the land at $40,000.

Rhodesian Bolt Helps Ghana Chief

Government papers have announced that any commodity shortages and other hardships should be blamed on Rhodesia's white prime minister, Ian Smith.

No mention was made of scarcities which have been occurring sporadically here for more than a year because of mismanagement and corruption.

Ghana imported consumer goods worth more than $280 million to make Accra appear a well-stocked showcase during last month's African summit conference.

These goods are mostly gone and stringent controls have been restored. Some clothing, shoes and various foodstuffs already are scarce.

"Of course I am hoarding," said one Ghanaian matron cheerfully as she strolled from an Accra shop carrying 25 pounds of sugar.

Wide powers have been assumed by the government under the Africa defense bill rammed through Parliament last Friday. Under it, the president assumed the equivalent of martial law control.

Nkrumah's prestige in the rest of Africa, which appeared at a low point at the end of the Cost of Living Up in October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose two-tenths of 1 percent in October to an all-time high, the Labor Department said today. All major items except groceries went up.

Housing, clothing, transportation and medical care costs all went up, bringing the government's consumer price index to 110.4, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The index figure means it took $11.04 to purchase typical products that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

EVEN THE WEATHER BUREAU GETS IT—The Weather Bureau in Los Angeles has its problems, too, as the worst November downpour in history soaks Southern California. Bundy Expected To Quit As Johnson's Top Aide JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The expected departure of McGeorge Bundy as President Johnson's top aide on foreign policy would complete a major revamping of the White House staff.

Bundy, the brilliant but often abrasive presidential assistant for national security affairs, has been offered the presidency of the Ford Foundation at about $75,000 a year—more than double his $28,500 White House salary.

The best guessing here and in Washington is that the former Harvard University dean, brought to the White House in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy, will take the job.

Kennedy, much like Dwight D. Eisenhower before him, thought of staff aides as specialists. Johnson, more the free-wheeler, likes to tag particular aides to do particular chores without consulting organizational charts.

Instead of viewing the office of the president as a rather formal piece of machinery, Johnson gradually has personalized it into his own kind of machine. As one observer phrased it, "he runs the presidency like a teamster drives horses."

From Bundy's own viewpoint things are much different than under Kennedy when he ran a "little State Department" in the White House basement.

Kennedy, distrusting the State Department bureaucracy, used Bundy's shop as a buffer — and as a source of viewpoints that, he felt, might not otherwise come to his attention.

Johnson has displayed no such distrust of the Cabinet departments. Indeed, he has expressed a preference for dealing directly with top Cabinet officers, feeling each should be the paramount expert in his assigned field.

In view of all this, Bundy apparently feels there is no place to go but out. And Johnson seemingly feels he can get along without Bundy — and without the kind of potent office he has long headed.

Fall Off Skateboard Bans Lady from Airplane Race

NEW RICHMOND, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Bobbie Vornholt probably set some kind of record when she fell off a skateboard and disqualified herself from an international airplane race this year.

The 19-year-old bride broke her leg in the fall and officials in the All Women's International Air Race to Nassau in the Bahamas would not let her compete with a cast on her leg.

Mrs. Vornholt, who says she wants to be a test pilot, became the youngest woman ever to compete in the international air race in 1963 when she was 16. She also raced last year and after her disqualification this fall she entered an intercollegiate flying contest and won the trophy for past flying achievements.

Now at 19 and with 200 hours in her log book, Bobbie may well become the youngest woman ever to earn a commercial pilot's license. All she has to do is pass the exams.

The daughter of Robert Netzler, a Dayton airplane dealer, Bobbie started flying with her parents as a baby.

"They used to put me in the baggage boot when we'd go on trips and the swinging motion of the canvas luggage carrier would rock me to sleep," she said.

When she graduated from high school, her father gave her a sports car but she learned to drive it only last month.

That was after she ceased being Roberta Netzler and married David Vornholt, whose parents operate a boat harbor in this Clermont County village on the Ohio River. Both were Ohio State students at the time of their marriage—David a junior and Bobbie a freshman.

While Bobbie has learned to drive the sports car and a boat, David has learned to fly.

Ex-Hospital Patient Kills Toledo Wife

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — "I told you I'd get you!" customers and employees heard shouted in Topps Department Store Monday.

Then shooting—and a 21-year-old woman clerk at a checkout counter fell dead, hit by two bullets.

More shooting wounded two customers—a pregnant young woman and her mother—but not seriously.

Next, the manager of Topps' children's department, Myron Rothman, found himself looking down the barrel of the fatal carbine.

An unidentified customer jumped the gun-wielder from behind and pinned his arms. Rothman yanked away the weapon and clipped the menace on the head.

Police moved in and arrested John C. Carolozzi, 22, who they said had been released from Toledo State Hospital only three days earlier after a two-week stay.

It was Carolozzi's wife, Elizabeth, who was slain.

Suffering leg wounds, reportedly when they tried to run, were Mrs. Carol Shale, 40, and her daughter, Mrs. Joanne O'Brien.

Authorities charged Carolozzi with murder—and returned him to Toledo State Hospital.

Italian Reds Lose In Local Elections

ROME (AP) — Italy's Communist party today showed slight losses in scattered local elections. Premier Aldo Moro's Christian Democrats held their own.

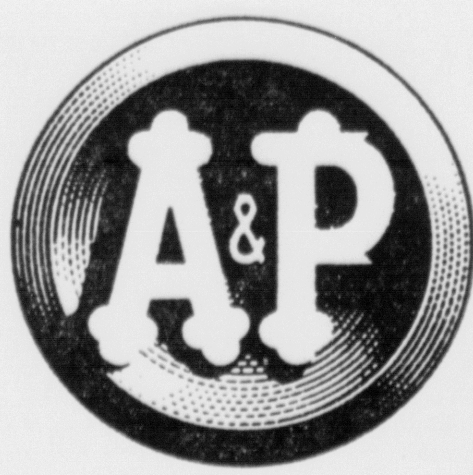

The outcome of the voting by more than a million Italians on Sunday and Monday was bound to bolster Moro and his center-left coalition government.

It marked one of the few times the Communist party did not show clear over-all gains in an Italian election, and it indicated at least a temporary halt to broad Christian Democrat losses.

The weekend balloting was for three provincial councils and 165 municipal councils.

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

Festive Christmas Cards

CHOCOLATE PEANUT CLUSTERS

8 ounces semi-sweet chocolate
1/2 pound roasted Spanish peanuts

Cut and place a sheet of waxed paper on a cookie sheet. Place 2 inches of water in the bottom of double boiler. Break chocolate into small pieces. Melt it in the top of double boiler. Remove mixture from heat and add peanuts. Mix thoroughly. With spoon, drop bite-size amounts of mixture onto waxed paper and chill until chocolate is set. Makes about 36 pieces.

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS CARDS — Holiday greeting cards are more festive than ever this year and many are delightful to receive because they offer a bonus. One for example, pictured above, would be wonderful for a good cook's collection. It's a card that offers a delightful group of Christmas recipes.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Christmas cards will soon be flying through the mails—and the sooner the better, says the Post Office, which takes a dim view of getting snowed under an avalanche of last-minute greetings.

Now's the time to select yours, address, stamp and send them. Early-bird arrivals always rate special attention.

To make your cards really stand out, however, consider some of the extra festive ones available this year. They are greetings that are delightful to receive because they offer a bonus.

One, for example, is actually a cookbook of holiday recipes. Another, for Baby, contains the makings of a reindeer.

Any number of cut-out cards—cut out in the shape of Christmas bells, candles, stockings and trees, are designed to be

Wonderful way to communicate the Christmas spirit

No other gift speaks so well of your thoughtfulness as a bright little STARLITE® phone for someone in your family. It's especially convenient for the bedroom because it has a dial that glows in the dark for easy dialing, and comes in a variety of decorator colors.

We've made the STARLITE phone easy to give, too. Take one home now to put under the tree, and we'll install it right after the holidays.

Another nice thought—spread the spirit of Christmas and New Year's by phoning faraway friends and relatives. And make those calls a day or two ahead of the Holiday, when folks have more time for relaxed conversation.

Dear Abby: Party Manners!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last week my husband and I gave a housewarming party in our first new home. We sent out invitations to 16 couples saying it was a housewarming. Everyone came, but only one couple brought a gift. I was so hurt and embarrassed I didn't know what to think. Yesterday one of my friends told me she would have brought a gift, but one of the other invited guests took it upon herself to call up everybody and spread the word that it's not etiquette for people to give a housewarming party for themselves, and therefore it wasn't proper to bring a gift. She said a "real" housewarming party, where a gift is in order, is one that is given by friends for the new home owners. Abby, if we had known this we never would have given that party. We went to a lot of expense entertaining those people with drinks and food. That girl sure had her nerve. But was she right?

NOT UP ON ETIQUETTE

DEAR NOT UP: "Etiquette" is a matter of common sense. When friends call on a couple in their new home for the first time, it's customary to bring a gift. Your friend, the self-appointed authority on etiquette, could use some pointers on what is proper. However, if you gave the party only to harvest the gifts, the crop failure was just.

DEAR ABBY: I'm just curious. I have an aunt and uncle who were married for 62 years and now they are getting a divorce. Is this a record?

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three children in Cleveland were fed a diet of celery and carrot juice. Three children in Painesville were living in a shack.

Juvenile authorities in Cleveland and Painesville Tuesday took action against the parents of the six children in separate court actions.

Juvenile Court Judge Angelo J. Gagliardo in Cleveland sent the parents to the Cuyahoga County Jail and the children were placed in the temporary custody of child welfare authorities.

Policewomen said they found a home full of garbage bags and crawling insects. The 37-year-old mother said her husband did not believe in buying any food for the children except vegetable juices. The husband, 51, earns $8,500 a year as a welder.

Each parent blamed the other for being at fault. Judge Gagliardo said he would fix a definite sentence for the parents after a probation officer makes a study of the couple while they are in jail.

In Painesville, Lake County authorities applied in juvenile court Tuesday for temporary custody of three children found living in a shack with no sanitary facilities, no running water and heated by a coal stove.

The children were placed in foster homes.

Festive Christmas Cards

CHOCOLATE PEANUT CLUSTERS

8 ounces semi-sweet chocolate
1/2 pound roasted Spanish peanuts

Cut and place a sheet of waxed paper on a cookie sheet. Place 2 inches of water in the bottom of double boiler. Break chocolate into small pieces. Melt in the top of double boiler. Remove mixture from heat and add peanuts. Mix thoroughly with spoon, drop bite-size amounts of mixture onto waxed paper and chill until chocolate is set. Makes about 36 pieces.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Christmas cards will soon be flying through the mails—and the sooner the better, says the Post Office, which takes a dim view of getting snowed under an avalanche of last-minute greetings.

Now's the time to select yours, address, stamp and send them. Early-bird arrivals always rate special attention.

To make your cards really stand out, however, consider some of the extra festive ones available this year. They are greetings that are delightful to receive because they offer a bonus.

One, for example, is actually a cookbook of holiday recipes. Another, for Baby, contains the makings of a reindeer.

Any number of cut-out cards—cut out in the shape of Christmas bells, candles, stockings and trees, are designed to be hung on the Christmas tree. A cut-out card with the letters JOY has decorative possibilities, as does a striking wreath-shaped card. The large wreath is decked with fruit and topped off with a green velvet bow.

Another greeting that opens to reveal five panels would look great on a mantelpiece. The panels show Santa and his reindeer and carry a wish for a "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Each letter of the message, which runs across the top of the greeting, is cut out.

On one, Santa's twinkling eyes move up and down when you lift the tassel of his hat. On another the hat, which is folded under the card for easy mailing, extends to 14 inches, making the Santa figure a delightful decoration for a door or a panel.

Some of the most beautiful cards of all are based on the Nativity story.

A striking parchment greeting in soft pastel colors with gold trim is really a little book that tells the story of "The First Noel" in the words of the lovely carol.

Another card-book, "Joy to the World", carries not only the words but the music for 11 favorite carols.

A white and gold Inspirational Calendar for 1966 makes still another novel gift-type greeting.

Whatever your preference in Christmas card designs you can satisfy it, for every holiday theme imaginable has inspired greeting card artists.

According to The Greeting Card Association, religious themes are more numerous than ever this year, for their "Peace on Earth" message is one that has special meaning in our cold war era.

Good combination: shrimp and crab in a cream sauce served on toast or rice or in patie shells.

Mrs. Stallings Hostess for Guild Meeting

Fifteen members were present at the recent meeting of St. Anne's Guild held in the home of Mrs. James Stallings.

Reports were given by the various committee chairmen. Members agreed to send parcels to the women of Viet Nam consisting of materials, needles and thread.

Speakers for the evening were the Rev. John Moody and the Rev. Beau Stevenson who presented a program of religious views abroad including slides of the old and new buildings.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. Don Dodge was co-hostess.

Youth Feted With Party

Ricky Blankenship was honored on his 12th birthday with a pizza party given Saturday evening by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Blankenship, 212 Third Ave.

Refreshments were served and the evening was spent playing records and dancing.

Others present were, Kristine, Tony and Gregg Blankenship, Sally and Vickie Smith, Pam, Kim and Danny Karr, Connie Downing, Becky McCoy, Conchita Lowe, Mark Davey, David Sowers, Danny Smith, Chuck Walisa, Richard Metcalf, Dennis Wood, Mrs. Phillip Wharton and Mr. and Mrs. George Myers and children, Becky Sue and Randy.

Watsons Host Family Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Watson, Route 1, hosted a family dinner Sunday at their residence.

Guests present were Mrs. Eva Black and George Bentley of the home, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bader and Anne Bader, Xenia-Beaver Creek, Mrs. Herbert Beery, Don Beery and Miss Jan Umsted, Lancaster, Miss Patricia Watson, Ohio State University, and Keith Turvey, Tarleton.

Those attending later in the day were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Manemann and Rex, Roger, Rhonda, and Robby, Sabina.

In the evening the guests visited Mrs. Alice Heiskell, Circleville, who was unable to attend because of illness.

Personals

Mrs. J. O. Eagleson and son, Allen, of N. Pickaway St., spent the Thanksgiving weekend with Mr. and Mrs. David Eagleson of Hyde Park, Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dumm, 411 S. Court St., visited last week with his brother, Herman Dumm, of Hinsdale, Ill. who also spent a few days with them. He recently returned from a tour of Europe and North Africa. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. O. C. West of Hinsdale who had just returned from a motor trip through France, England, Switzerland, Austria and Germany.

Vicky Shaffer, Circleville, and Terry Lynn Cline, Ashville, dance students of Marie Marshon of Ashville, gave a recital last night at Clyde's Sinclair Station, corner of Court and High Sts.

Dear Abby: Party Manners!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last week my husband and I gave a housewarming party in our first new home. We sent out invitations to 16 couples saying it was a housewarming. Everyone came, but only one couple brought a gift. I was so hurt and embarrassed I didn't know what to think. Yesterday one of my friends told me she would have brought a gift, but one of the other invited guests took it upon herself to call up everybody and spread the word that it's not etiquette for people to give a housewarming party for themselves, and therefore it wasn't proper to bring a gift. She said a "real" housewarming party, where a gift is in order, is one that is given by friends for the new home owners. Abby, if we had known this we never would have given that party. We went to a lot of expense entertaining those people with drinks and food. That girl sure had her nerve. But was she right?

NOT UP ON ETIQUETTE is a matter of common sense. When friends call on a couple in their new home for the first time, it's customary to bring a gift. Your friend, the self-appointed authority on etiquette, could use some pointers on what is proper. However, if you gave the party only to harvest the gifts, the crop failure was just.

DEAR ABBY: I'm just curious. I have an aunt and uncle who were married for 62 years and now they are getting a divorce. Is this a record?

AMAZED AND ASHAMED

Mrs. Hedges To Host Bible Class Meeting

Mrs. B. T. Hedges, 134 Watt St., will entertain members of the Westminster Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

A 50-cent gift exchange will be conducted.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

DEAR A. AND A.: I hope so.

DEAR ABBY: Rose (fictitious name) and I were girlhood friends. Today she is very, very wealthy and I am a working widow. We're both in our late 50's. When Rose's husband died, four years ago, I went to her apartment every day after work to help her bear her sorrow. With me she could be herself, and not "Mrs. Park Avenue" as she had to be with her ritzy friends. With all her money and leisure, Rose has never spent five cents for a birthday card for me. When I was sick and out of work for seven months, not once did she come to my humble apartment to see me. She didn't even send me a can of soup. After my illness I went to see her and she acted like she had just seen me yesterday.

She is interested in only herself and was happy to have someone to listen to HER troubles. I can't understand how a person can be so selfish and spoiled. Should I completely drop her? I don't hate her—I am just hurt to think of how much of myself I gave to her when she needed me, and how little she gave me in return.

ROSE'S DOORMAT DEAR DOORMAT: Yes drop her. Otherwise admit that you enjoy being a doormat.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I gave a party at my home for a large group of women. Before going home, at least six women asked me for some cake and sandwiches (And even salad) to take home to their husbands and children.

Now, Abby, I am thrilled when my guests enjoy the refreshments I serve, and I want them to eat their fill. But it disgusts me when they expect me to send home enough food for them to feed their families. I have children who enjoy some leftover cake and sandwiches too. It seems that some people just want an extra meal for nothing. Please put this in your column for people who make a habit of doing this. And sign me — "SICK OF PIGS"

Wonderful way to communicate the Christmas spirit

No other gift speaks so well of your thoughtfulness as a bright little STARLITE® phone for someone in your family. It's especially convenient for the bedroom because it has a dial that glows in the dark for easy dialing, and comes in a variety of decorator colors.

We've made the STARLITE phone easy to give, too. Take one home now to put under the tree, and we'll install it right after the holidays.

Another nice thought—spread the spirit of Christmas and New Year's by phoning faraway friends and relatives. And make those calls a day or two ahead of the holiday, when folks have more time for relaxed conversation.

Pickaway County attained 83.8 per cent of its 1965 blood bank quota, according to tabulations of the Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross following the Bloodmobile final visit here on Monday.

Monday's visit netted 113 pints of blood with a total of 223 persons volunteering contributions. Ten donors, however, were turned away because of various medical reasons.

With Monday's collection, the total for the year was 980 pints — the 1965 quota was 1,170 pints.

According to a regulation adopted by the Columbus Hospital Federation, the Academy of Medicine and the Red Cross Blood Center, it will be necessary for residents of any chapter not maintaining at least 90 per cent of the quota to make a deposit of two pints of blood before elective surgery in Columbus hospitals. The regulation is effective today.

LOCAL officials, however, pointed out this ruling will not apply to Berger Hospital because the Pickaway County Chapter of the Red Cross will continue to provide total coverage for its patients.

Neither will it apply to donors of two gallons of blood or more or those who have donated within the past year.

Since Pickaway County has not maintained 90 per cent of its goal, it is quite possible that county residents in Columbus hospitals will be asked to make blood deposits unless they are emergency cases, a spokesman said today.

City Councilman Joe Bell, N. Court St., completed his eighth gallon contribution of blood at Monday's visit. Margaret Finch and Berman Fausnaugh received four-gallon donor's pins and receiving three-gallon pins were Edgar Davis and Robert Mills. Glenn Metzler completed his second

Ohio Cities' Crime Rate Is Tabulated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Several of Ohio's big cities stacked up rather favorably, and Cincinnati did especially well in comparison with the nationwide crime increase reported by the Federal Bureau of Investigation today.

Still, most of the eight largest Ohio cities experienced increases in the seven major crime categories covered, comparing January - September 1965 with the comparable nine months of 1964.

Cincinnati, based on offenses known to police, reduced crime in six of the categories—but in the ultimate crime, homicide, had a slight rise from 27 to 29.

Akron was up in only three categories, Columbus in four, Cleveland, Dayton, Toledo and Canton in five, and Youngstown in six.

The crimes are classed as homicide, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny $50 and over, and automobile theft.

On a national scale, the FBI says its crime index for the nine months showed a 5 per cent increase over the first nine months of 1964. Each category showed a rise, from 2 per cent in aggravated assault to 6 per cent in forcible rape.

Meade, Mrs. Howard Houston, Mr. Montford Kirkwood, Mrs. Robin Jones.

Mrs. Reber Bell was a nurse's aid and volunteers were Betsy Hamrick and Kathy Frericks. Assisting with arrangements were Greg Heiskell, Tommy Bowers, Jack Robinson, Bruce Pontious, Mark Ralston, Danny Reichelderfer and John Myer, members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship and Scout Troop No. 52.

Nurses volunteering their services were Mrs. Robert Denman, Mrs. Arthur Bowman, Mrs. John Byers, Mrs. Jack Linton, Mrs. Donald Archer, Mrs. Virgil Anderson and Mrs. Ralph Bryant.

BROWNED SWISS STEAK

Another all-time
FAVORITE RECIPE from McCall's

- 1 1/4 pounds round steak 1 1/2 inches thick
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 2 tablespoons salad oil or shortening
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup grated carrots
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon dried thyme leaves
- 2 bay leaves
- 3 whole cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon liquid gravy seasoning

1. Using damp paper towels, wipe steak. Roll it in 2 tablespoons flour, coating evenly on both sides.
2. Slowly heat large, heavy skillet. Add oil; heat. In it, brown steak well on both sides, 15 to 20 minutes in all, turning with tongs.
3. Add rest of ingredients, except remaining flour, along with 1 cup of water; bring to boiling.
4. Reduce heat; then simmer, covered, for 2 to 2 1/2 hours.
5. Combine rest of flour with 1/4 cup water in small bowl, stirring until smooth. Stir into liquid in skillet; bring to boiling. Reduce heat, simmer for 5 minutes. Serves 4.

Communists Are Confused In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — In Venezuela, long a prime target for communism in Latin America, the world Communist quarrel is generating confusion between the pro-Moscow wing and those who promote the Peking line of constant violence.

This was illustrated after pro-Communist guerrillas executed two peasant leaders associated with the government's Democratic Action party. The body of one was left with the mouth stuffed with Communist propaganda. Next to the other body was a list of 10 other government leaders "sentenced to death" by guerrillas.

Maverick pro-Chinese Communists and their allies in the Revolutionary Leftist Movement argued that such executions are justified. But the Communist student leader, Juvenio Pulgar, voicing a pro-Moscow view, commented that "we are on the brink of becoming another Colombia, where violence no longer has anything to do with ideology." Colombia for years was plagued by violent banditry.

Even a founder of the movement is expressing second thoughts about unbridled terrorism. Domingo Alberto Rangel has been in jail since October 1963, when the government imprisoned extreme left congressmen after the killing of five guardsmen. Once an advocate of unremitting violence, Rangel recently wrote President Raul Leoni:

"It pains me to see Venezuela getting bloodied in a struggle where the vicious circle of revenge sterilizes opportunities and closes roads to conciliation."

This hints at a feeling among extreme leftists that the guerrilla movement, rather than paying dividends, has alienated many Venezuelans.

But Julio Escalona, president of the student federation, said recently in an interview:

"Like the Vietnamese people, we are ready to go on with this war for 20 years. We will not stop until we kick the Yankees out."

Survey Details Extent Of High School Cheating

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio high school students today don't cheat any more than their parents did, but they're under more pressure to make better grades.

An Associated Press survey of Ohio high schools found no concern over any increase in cheating.

Noting concern by some educators in other states that increased pressure on college-bound students had led to an increase in cheating, one Columbus principal said, "They said that when I started in college and that was a long time ago."

Administrators, teachers and students seemed to agree that some students will cheat and some won't.

Most principals and teachers agreed, though, that students today are under more pressure to get better grades. Colleges demand better records and parents prod children to get the grades that will get them into colleges.

"I don't think that kids are more basically dishonest than they were a hundred years ago," said a Columbus teacher, "but they are certainly under more pressure."

One teen-ager, told that a C was a perfectly respectable grade, summed up the pressure this way:

"You tell it to my folks . . . they think there are only three grades—A, B and grounded."

But, said Springfield High School Principal Robert Lynch, "the only thing the pressure is doing is making them work harder."

Several principals reported they had not had a single case of cheating reported this year. Most said tests are closely monitored to guard against the student who will cheat.

But a teacher at Columbus Whetstone High School who experimented with an unmonitored test found no obvious cribbing—and reported the students generally did poorer on the unwatched test than on previous tests which were closely monitored.

A student at that school said, "I think you feel that when a teacher really trusts you, you aren't going to cheat on her."

Schools in the Cleveland suburbs of Shaker Heights and Lakewood, however, are abolishing the honor system of unmonitored tests. They say it will help take the pressure off students and put testing on a fair basis for all.

Officials in both Shaker Heights and Cleveland felt that cheating is no longer the exclusive province of the student fighting just to pass. And, said Dr. William P. Hoffman, director of Cleveland secondary schools, "the college-bound are somewhat more intelligent and devise better methods."

A Columbus principal and a student in a different Columbus school gave almost identical answers.

"We get the same kids that will cheat and the same kids that won't," said the principal, while the student phrased it: "I think some kids are going to cheat and some aren't, no matter what the system is."

Ohio Jaycees Search For Farmer of Year

MARION, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce announced today it was starting its annual search for the "Outstanding Young Farmer of the Year." Five semifinalists will appear at a program in Canton Feb. 25-27 at which time the winner will be selected.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 1, the 335th day of 1965. There are 30 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1942, nationwide gasoline rationing went into effect in World War II.

On this date
In 1783, the first hydrogen balloon—carrying two men—rose from the ground in Paris.

In 1865, habeas corpus rights were restored in the northern states.

In 1917, the kings of Norway, Denmark and Sweden agreed to maintain neutrality toward all belligerent powers.

In 1936, President Franklin D. Roosevelt opened an inter-American conference in Buenos Aires.

In 1942, Adm. Jean Darlan became chief of state in North Africa.

Ten years ago — The United States, Britain and France rejected Soviet claims that the four-power status of Berlin was ended and that the East German government was sovereign in East Berlin.

Five years ago — Patrice Lumumba, the deposed premier of the Congo, was arrested by troops of Col. Joseph Mobutu, head of the Congolese army regime.

One year ago — The United Nations General Assembly narrowly averted a showdown between the United States and Russia over unpaid Soviet assessments.

Newcomer Buys an Auto by Phone

By HAL COOPER
(Formerly of London)
NEW YORK (AP)—People in this country seem to take more pains choosing their automobiles than they do selecting their wives.

This may be why the cars occasionally outlast the marriages. Or maybe that's because you're stuck with the car until you complete the payments, whereas your wife can pack up and leave.

At any rate, having just returned to America after many years abroad, we undertook to buy an automobile sight unseen by telephone the other day and consternation ensued. The way the car dealer and our neighbors reacted, you would have thought we had been caught horsewhipping Santa Claus. They didn't realize we simply didn't know any better.

Until recently, the family was housed in an urban area well served by public transportation. The need for a car arose from a move deep into Long Island, where the kids have grass to play on instead of city streets and the commuter trains stop six miles away.

So the head of the family plucked the phone number of a local car dealer out of the Yellow Pages, called him up and said:

State To Set Up 33 Ice Skating Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's state parks will provide 33 posted ice skating areas, including 14 lighted for night use, and 19 marked sledding hills, Parks Chief Melvin J. Rebholz has announced. Skiers will find facilities at Punderson State Park.

"We need a light sedan and the Vulture 6 you handle seems about right. Please send one over. Have the man bring the sales contract and other documents."

"Wait a minute," said the dealer. "You mean you don't want to see it first?"

"Not especially," we replied. "We've seen the one the fellow next door has and if you've seen one Vulture 6 you've seen 'em all."

"Now wait, wait," said the dealer, who seemed in a state of shock. "What kind of Vulture 6 do you have in mind?"

"A new one," we specified firmly.

"You want two doors or four? You want a radio? What color do you want?"

"Four doors. No radio. What colors you got?"

"Well, my first batch of '66 four doors is due in about three days. I'm expecting one black, one white and one Burgundy."

But don't you want to wait and . . . ?

"Hey, Joie," we called to our wife. "How about Burgundy for a color?"

"Okay," she said. "But tell him to get it over here as soon as he can. Those cab fares are killing us."

Although in some anguish, the car dealer finally agreed to show up with a Burgundy color four-door Vulture 6, no radio, at the earliest opportunity.

Toward the end of the week the dealer drove up with the car.

"This Burgundy?" we asked. "Don't display your ignorance," said Joie. "Haven't you ever heard of white Burgundy? Comes from the Cote d'Or, Yonne and Saone-et-Loire same as the other kind."

We closed the deal on the spot. So now we have a perfectly satisfactory car, are saving a fortune in cab fares and what's all the fuss about?

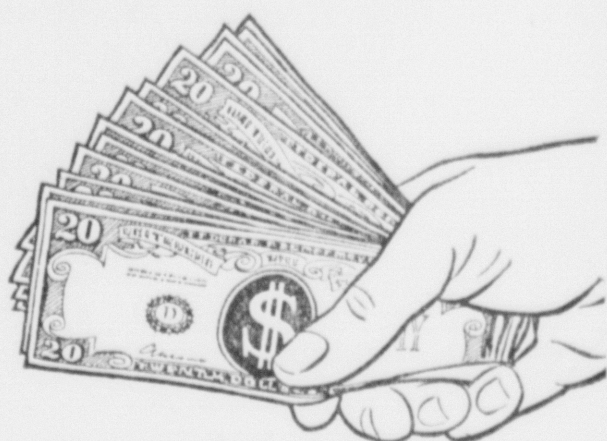

Greyhound Shelves Bid To Curtail Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Utilities Commission hearing scheduled in Dayton Thursday is off—Greyhound Bus Lines has withdrawn its request to reduce service on its Lima-Dayton-Cincinnati route. About 15 protests were received by the commission, from Dayton, Troy, Sidney and Lebanon, after Greyhound proposed the cut.

Truck Driver Killed In Freak Road Mishap

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—An auto-carrier driver lost his life trying to help at an accident scene Tuesday when another truck ran into him. Richard W. Schuster, 36, of Cincinnati stopped his rig and got out to assist at a minor car-truck mishap in the opposite lane on U.S. 35 northwest of here. A tractor-trailer driven by Richard Lee Guy, 35, of Dayton couldn't avoid Schuster's parked vehicle, hitting it and careening into the victim.

Fall Fertilization Is Good Practice

Fall fertilization is one of the most profitable farm management practices, ever devised says Linden Gibson, manager of the Pickaway Fertilizer Service.

Fall Fertilization is backed up by dozens of sound benefits both practical and scientific, Gibson says.

He offers this partial listing of fall fertilization benefits:

Fields are almost always drier and firmer in the fall than in the spring. There's less chance of heavy spreading equipment bogging down and damaging the soil.

By applying fertilizer in the fall, you make better use of available labor. Fall workloads are usually less pressing than in springtime.

Fertilizer dealers have more time for extra service in the fall, such as soil sampling, testing and advisory work.

When fertilizer application is postponed until spring, planting often suffers a costly delay.

Soil testing laboratories can usually mail back results and recommendations faster when samples are submitted in the fall.

Spring fields are sometimes so wet that soil samples cannot be taken in time for testing that spring.

Many fertilizers are priced at a seasonal discount during the fall season. You get more for your dollar in the fall.

When fertilizer is ordered in the fall, you stand a better chance of getting exactly what your soil needs — without delay.

Manufactured fertilizers purchased in the fall have had more time to cure. Blending plants are also better able to get materials of proper granule size which leads to more efficient spreading.

By purchasing fertilizer in the fall, many farmers find they can make a tax saving through proper timing of the expenditure.

Fall applications of fertilizer are more likely to be plowed down instead of disked in. This makes for better placement of the plant nutrients — and higher yield in most cases.

Fertilizer generally delivers best performance with the conditions of high soil moisture which are so prevalent in many areas this fall.

On many fields, it is nearly impossible to apply all the needed fertilizer through spring band applications alone. Fall application helps bring total plant nutrient supplies up to essential levels for maximum returns.

Proper fall fertilization will help speed up the decomposition of heavy crop residues. The stalks and stubble are turned into rich humus more rapidly.

Fall application on alfalfa and pasture builds up the nutrient reserves that help alfalfa resist winterkill. Pastures also start off faster the following spring.

Gibson invites farmers in this area to inquire for more details on the profit-making benefits of fall fertilization.

Qualified sources said Wilson had agreed to a request from President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia for help in protecting the Kariba hydroelectric dam on the Zambia-Rhodesia frontier.

Last Friday, saboteurs blew up a tower on the power line which carries electricity from the dam to Zambia's copper belt.

Military correspondents of British newspapers reported the prime minister would tell the House of Commons that a force already was on the way. It was believed to consist of Royal Air Force reconnaissance planes and technicians.

Qualified sources said Wilson had agreed to send the force on condition that it would stay in Zambian territory, that it would remain under British control and that no other foreign troops would be allowed into Zambia while the British are there.

Heart Study For Men Set At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Likely candidates for heart disease may learn what to do and what not to do from a project that got under way Monday at Ohio State University.

Working under a $30,000 grant from the U.S. Public Health Service, the university's medical college and the Ohio Health Department began testing the first of about 20,000 middle aged men who have had no history of heart trouble.

The first testing was done on 50 volunteers who were weighed and measured and given electrocardiograms along with blood and lung tests.

Researchers hope to learn from the tests whether recommended changes in an individual's living habits will reduce the risk of heart disease.

They explained that the volunteers are in the 40 - 60 age group and are free of heart disease although they possess physical or habit characteristics indicating they could be victimized.

These characteristics, said Dr. Martin D. Keller, associate professor of preventive medicine and project director, include weight, activity, a mount of smoking, and cholesterol level. Results of the tests will be sent to the subject's family physician who may recommend living changes, Keller said.

CORWIN ST.

The Corwin St. School PTA will sponsor a book fair Dec. 1-7, according to Mrs. Walter Gilmore, chairman.

This will be the second annual fair directed by the Ways and Means Committee. The book fair will be open 3-4:30 p. m. in the front hall of the school building.

The committee in charge invites all students, parents and visitors to attend. The event will not only help spur student interest in reading and building home libraries, but will also contribute to a worthwhile project. The school earns 20 percent of all sales and profits will be used for PTA activities.

Mrs. William Hulse Jr. is chairman of the committee and her assistants are Mrs. Gilmore, Mrs. Don Strawser, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Walter Howard and Mrs. Robert Temple.

The book fair will offer mysteries, fairy tales, classics and adventure stories for all ages.

Is Church's Ship Model Religious?

CLEVELAND (AP) — U. S. Customs officials and a suburban minister are at odds over the question of whether a ship model to be hung in a church is a religious article.

The Rev. Cyril M. Wismar, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Covenant in Maple Heights, went to pier 26 here last Friday to pick up a model of the frigate Olber, which had been built by Arne Petersen of Store Hedding, Denmark.

But customs officials feel the duty-free rule on religious articles does not apply to it. That means the Rev. Mr. Wismar would have to pay $210 duty on the model, which is valued at $600.

The minister lists two reasons why he believes the model has as much religious value as stained glass windows or a baptismal font, both of which, he says, are duty-free. They are:

—The model is symbolic of a flight from religious persecution. The Olber in 1839 brought German immigrants from Hamburg to New Orleans and they later founded the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod.

—Although it is not customary in America, many European churches display ships.

John F. Kovacic, collector of Customs, says the decision to impose duty will be re-examined and if it sticks an appeal can be made to Washington.

Lake County Courts Clerk Short on Cash

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Unless Lake County commissioners appropriate $4,500 more to meet his payroll this year, Clerk of Courts Guy J. McDermott and his 17 employees face a near-payless December.

McDermott said Monday that he ran short because of more help needed to meet the workload of a third common pleas judge added last January.

Red China Troops Resume Probing on India Border

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Communist Chinese troops are probing south all along India's Himalayan frontier. Some Indian blood is being spilled.

Peking is flooding New Delhi with protest notes charging India with provocations and warlike activity.

Why this Chinese war of nerves? Two theories are popular in government circles:

—The Chinese, frustrated by a lack of success in Africa and Southeast Asia, are hardening their stance from India to Korea so as to exploit every opportunity to cause trouble, especially for the United States.

—The Chinese intend to give moral support to Pakistan in its conflict with India and at the same time create "irritations" and conflicting claims that could be propaganda preparation for renewed hostilities against India.

New Delhi doesn't expect a major Chinese attack soon, however.

One of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's top Chinese experts points out that the winter snows have closed the mountain passes leading south from Chinese-held Tibet to the Indian plains.

Neither do Indian experts expect a major Chinese intervention in the Viet Nam war or a trial of strength elsewhere against American armed might.

The Chinese for the moment seem willing to let the Vietnamese take the punishment inherent in tangling with the Americans, these experts say.

No such inhibitions are evident among the Chinese troops on the Indian front. They push across the border with impunity.

One Indian expert on China said Peking's current campaign seems aimed at destroying the last vestiges of restrictions left over from the 1962 border war. After that bloodletting, China unilaterally announced demilitarized zones had been established along its frontier with India.

"Lines of control" were set up. The Chinese now have violated their own ground rules and obviously no longer consider them valid.

This, the Indians fear, may be groundwork for a new, serious attack — perhaps after the passes are clear of snow next spring.

Fall Fertilization Is Good Practice

Fall fertilization is one of the most profitable farm management practices, ever devised says Linden Gibson, manager of the Pickaway Fertilizer Service.

Fall Fertilization is backed up by dozens of sound benefits both practical and scientific, Gibson says.

He offers this partial listing of fall fertilization benefits:

Fields are almost always drier and firmer in the fall than in the spring. There's less chance of heavy spreading equipment bogging down and damaging the soil.

By applying fertilizer in the fall, you make better use of available labor. Fall workloads are usually less pressing than in springtime.

Fertilizer dealers have more time for extra service in the fall, such as soil sampling, testing and advisory work.

When fertilizer application is postponed until spring, planting often suffers a costly delay.

Heart Study For Men Set At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Likely candidates for heart disease may learn what to do and what not to do from a project that got under way Monday at Ohio State University.

British Seen Sending Unit To Zambia

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson delayed today the announcement of his decision on whether to send a token military force to Rhodesia's northern frontier.

Qualified sources said Wilson had agreed to a request from President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia for help in protecting the Kariba hydroelectric dam on the Zambia-Rhodesia frontier. Military correspondents of British newspapers reported the prime minister would tell the House of Commons that a force already was on the way. It was believed to consist of Royal Air Force reconnaissance planes and technicians.

Qualified sources said Wilson had agreed to send the force on condition that it would stay in Zambian territory, that it would remain under British control and that no other foreign troops would be allowed into Zambia while the British are there.

CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

Former Roundtowners Have 'Scenic' Manufacturing Site

Harold and Barbara Dresbach, former residents of Circleville, have one of the most scenic manufacturing sites in Montana.

The Dresbachs have established an industry, the handcrafting of plastic products, in their home on the shores of Lake Mary Ronan near Polson, Mont.

What started a few years ago as a hobby in San Diego, Calif., for Barbara Dresbach has turned into virtually a full time job.

She turns out hundreds of handcrafted personally designed plasticware items. They include plates, candy dishes, bowls, napkin holders as well as a lamp.

THEY are sold under the brand name of "Nature's Beauties by Barbara D."

Her husband, a retired musician, helps with the more complicated pieces where gluing or affixing handles is required.

City Near Ft. Benning Feels Anguish of War

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Residents of this east Georgia city are reminded often that Columbus is the home of Ft. Benning and the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division.

But it's not a pleasant reminder. Telegrams arriving almost daily from the Defense Department bring the sad news that soldiers from the base and the division are dying in the war in Viet Nam.

Perhaps no other city in the nation sees more of its population dwindle each week because of the fighting in Southeast Asia. On last Thanksgiving Eve, perhaps no other city was more unified in sorrow for its citizens.

Monday the Defense Department sent 11 telegrams to Columbus telling widows and parents their loved ones died in bitter fighting in the Ia Drang Valley last week.

Tuesday six more telegrams told of Columbus soldiers "killed in action."

Today . . . ?

A week ago Imogene Ferrell read of the heavy fighting by the 1st Cavalry at the foot of a mountain named Chu Pong in Viet Nam.

"I walked the streets all day," she said. "I don't know why I wasn't run over. When I got home, I tried to tell my children. You know your father is in the thickest fighting? He might not get back."

A list released by the Defense Department Tuesday of 39 men killed in the war read: "Sgt. William A. Ferrell, husband of Mrs. Imogene Ferrell, Columbus, Ga."

"He did everything for his family," she said. Then she smiled. "But we were second to the Army. A neighborhood boy called him the 'Old Sarge.'"

Ferrell was a member of the presidential honor guard for the inauguration of President Johnson and his widow tells proudly of his Army record which was "without a black spot."

The many widows here are reacting in different ways to news of their husband's deaths.

Sara Elliott was informed Sgt. Billy Elliott was killed when a grenade exploded at his feet.

In her grief, she still took time to take clothes and dishes to a family whose trailer home had burned.

Community concern has arisen in various ways.

A trailer court street's name is now changed to honor Sgt. Travis Poss, who was killed last week.

The Columbus Baptist Association said it was ready to help the victims' families "at any time."

A newspaper columnist asked his readers "to do the things that have to be done — to let it be known that Columbus cares."

U.S. Hardens Its Policy on Surplus Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has hardened its policy on the disposal of surplus food, largely due to dwindling reserves of wheat stocks and other edibles and a mounting supply of foreign currency that cannot be used.

U.S. authorities, making this known today, said the new policy will affect India, Pakistan, the United Arab Republic and about seven other countries designated as currency-excess countries by the U.S. Treasury. The designation means the United States has accumulated far more local currency from those countries than it can possibly use in the immediate future.

The new policy, already in progress, is to receive virtually all payments later in dollars rather than in rupees and dinars. Among the other excess currency countries are Ceylon, Burma, Guinea, Israel, Poland, Tunisia and Yugoslavia.

Coming under this policy will be the proposed sale of $55 million worth of food to the United Arab Republic. The State Department announced Tuesday that President Johnson had approved such a sale and that talks would open in Cairo within two weeks on the terms.

The announcement ended a period of tension between the two countries that started with the burning of the U.S. Information Agency library in Cairo in November 1964.

According to the State Department, part of the cost will be payable in dollars, the rest in Egyptian currency. The policy governing currency-excess countries permits the President to waive the dollars-only restriction when he finds it to be in the national interest.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told his last news conference that the United States is not in the position that one American adviser called the "garbage can approach" in the disposal of surplus food stocks.

"On such commodities as wheat and rice, for example, we do not have vast warehouses bulging with the surplus stocks that we once had," Rusk said. U.S. food authorities say that

Unlicensed Motorist Fined $100 for Second Offense

George Wolfe, 19, of 379 Weldon Ave., was fined $100 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court.

Wolfe was charged with driving when he had no valid operator's license. In levying the stiff penalty, Judge Sterling M. Lamb noted it was Wolfe's second occasion to appear in court on this type of violation.

Other motorists listed on the court docket were:

Samuel Rainey, 29, Ashville; Billy Janell, 22, Columbus; Patricia Moore, Ashland, Ky.; McClellan Crum, 21, Columbus; all fined $10 and costs for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Fined $15 and costs for exceeding the speed limit by 15 miles per hour were:

John J. Ryan Jr., 22, Route 1; Thomas McGarn, 25, Chillicothe; Ronald Casto, 26, Waverly; Gerald Leeth, 24, Idaho.

U.S. Judge Chuckles at Postal Snafu

CINCINNATI (AP)—U.S. District Judge John W. Peck got his chuckles today as he disclosed how another federal department, apparently the Post Office, had him and two other judges a bit confused last month.

A three-judge court, including Judge Peck, had decided to deny a motion to stay its order approving an Ohio legislative reapportionment plan for 1966.

U.S. Court of Appeals Judge Paul C. Weick signed it in Akron on Nov. 9. U.S. District Judge Carl Weinman signed it in Dayton on Nov. 10 and promptly mailed it to Judge Peck in Cincinnati, about 45 miles away.

Days passed. Postmasters in Cincinnati and Dayton got into the act in an effort to find the missing order. It eventually was found Nov. 17 mixed with some third class mail.

"Everybody was asking when we were going to issue an order," said Judge Peck. "We had done it but we couldn't find it."

2 Ohio Cities Get Urban Renewal Funds

Negro Woman Enters Race for Congress

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A five-way race has developed for the Democratic congressional nomination in North Carolina's 1st District. Sarah Small of Williamston, a Negro, is one of the candidates who filed for the Dec. 18 primary. The vacancy occurred with the recent death of Rep. Herbert C. Bonner, who held the seat 25 years.

Former Roundtowners Have 'Scenic' Manufacturing Site

Harold and Barbara Dresbach, former residents of Circleville, have one of the most scenic manufacturing sites in Montana.

The Dresbachs have established an industry, the handcrafting of plastic products, in their home on the shores of Lake Mary Ronan near Polson, Mont.

What started a few years ago as a hobby in San Diego, Calif., for Barbara Dresbach has turned into virtually a full time job.

She turns out hundreds of handcrafted personally designed plasticware items. They include plates, candy dishes, bowls, napkin holders as well as a lamp.

THEY are sold under the brand name of "Nature's Beauties by Barbara D."

Her husband, a retired musician, helps with the more complicated pieces where gluing or affixing handles is required.

City Near Ft. Benning Feels Anguish of War

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Residents of this east Georgia city are reminded often that Columbus is the home of Ft. Benning and the 1st Cavalry, Armored Division.

But it's not a pleasant reminder. Telegrams arriving almost daily from the Defense Department bring the sad news that soldiers from the base and the division are dying in the war in Viet Nam.

Perhaps no other city in the nation sees more of its population dwindle each week because of the fighting in Southeast Asia. On last Thanksgiving Eve, perhaps no other city was more united in sorrow for its citizens.

Monday the Defense Department sent 11 telegrams to Columbus telling widows and parents their loved ones died in bitter fighting in the Ia Drang Valley last week.

Tuesday six more telegrams told of Columbus soldiers "killed in action."

Today...? A week ago Imogene Ferrell read of the heavy fighting by the 1st Cavalry at the foot of a mountain named Chu Pong in Viet Nam.

"I walked the streets all day," she said. "I don't know why I wasn't run over. When I got home, I tried to tell my children, 'You know your father is in the thickest fighting? He might not get back.'"

A list released by the Defense Department Tuesday of 39 men killed in the war read: "Sgt. William A. Ferrell, husband of Mrs. Imogene Ferrell, Columbus, Ga."

"He did everything for his family," she said. Then she smiled. "But we were second to the Army. A neighborhood boy called him the 'Old Sarge.'"

Ferrell was a member of the presidential honor guard for the inauguration of President Johnson and his widow tells proudly of his Army record which was "without a black spot."

The many widows here are reacting in different ways to news of their husband's deaths.

Sara Elliott was informed Sgt. Billy Elliott was killed when a grenade exploded at his feet.

In her grief, she still took time to take clothes and dishes to a family whose trailer home had burned.

Community concern has arisen in various ways.

A trailer court street's name is now changed to honor Sgt. Travis Poss, who was killed last week.

The Columbus Baptist Association said it was ready to help the victims' families "at any time."

A newspaper columnist asked his readers "to do the things that have to be done — to let it be known that Columbus cares."

U.S. Hardens Its Policy on Surplus Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has hardened its policy on the disposal of surplus food, largely due to dwindling reserves of wheat stocks and other edibles and a mounting supply of foreign currency that cannot be used.

U.S. authorities, making this known today, said the new policy will affect India, Pakistan, the United Arab Republic and about seven other countries designated as currency-excess countries by the U.S. Treasury. The designation means the United States has accumulated far more local currency from those countries than it can possibly use in the immediate future.

The new policy, already in progress, is to receive virtually all payments later in dollars rather than in rupees and dinars. Among the other excess currency countries are Ceylon, Burma, Guinea, Israel, Poland, Tunisia and Yugoslavia.

Coming under this policy will be the proposed sale of $55 million worth of food to the United Arab Republic. The State Department announced Tuesday that President Johnson had approved such a sale and that talks would open in Cairo within two weeks on the terms.

The announcement ended a period of tension between the two countries that started with the burning of the U.S. Information Agency library in Cairo in November 1964.

According to the State Department, part of the cost will be payable in dollars, the rest in Egyptian currency. The policy governing currency-excess countries permits the President to waive the dollars-only restriction when he finds it to be in the national interest.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told his last news conference that the United States is not in the position that one American adviser called the "garbage can approach" in the disposal of surplus food stocks.

"On such commodities as wheat and rice, for example, we do not have vast warehouses bulging with the surplus stocks that we once had," Rusk said. U.S. food authorities say that

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson still walks a lonely road while the winds of cooperation, sometimes blowing from opposite directions, beat around his ears.

In the past few days there has been a burst of talk about various forms of international get-together. Meanwhile, Johnson must make the decisions on stepping up the war in Viet Nam. The picture isn't pretty there.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, just returned from Viet Nam, said, "It will be a long road ahead." He didn't say this country is winning. He just said, "We've stopped losing the war."

This country has about 165,000 troops in Viet Nam. Reports say the number will go to 300,000. Will it? McNamara wouldn't say. That's Johnson's decision.

One of the reasons for this country's bombing of North Viet Nam since February was to reduce the flow of North Vietnamese soldiers into South Viet Nam. But McNamara says now they are tripling the rate of infiltration.

The bombing will be intensified, Johnson must decide how much and where. Critics want Hanoi, the Red capital, bombed. But this might bring Red China into the war. Johnson has to think of that, too.

This week the United Nations General Assembly, without one dissent, voted for a world disarmament conference no later than 1967, with Red China invited. The United States and the Soviet Union voted together on this.

But — while this country said it would be willing to sit down with the Chinese on preliminary negotiations, it refrained from saying it would take part in the conference itself.

And one day later the Soviet Union charged this country is flooding and endangering Western Europe with nuclear weapons.

Tuesday night French President Charles de Gaulle, appealing to his people to re-elect him by telling them they couldn't do without him, took a crack at the United States by calling the

And, while assuring this country and his European partners that France was a staunch ally, he warned France would cooperate with them only as she pleased.

There was a lot of opposition and the United States shoved the idea aside.

Here in Washington a group of American specialists on foreign affairs recommended at the White House Conference on International Cooperation stronger efforts to get along with the Soviet Union. But some of the efforts proposed might damage this country's European alliances.

Sheriff Asks Courts for Crime News Guide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The speaker at the annual sheriffs' meeting was State Sen. Danny Johnson, D-Tuscarawas, who said certain guidelines are necessary to govern pretrial publicity. Courts will have to hand down such guidelines, Johnson said, rather than the legislature passing "gag" laws.

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The word is getting around in the television business that the executives who decide what programs we shall or shall not see are still concentrating on larger-than-life spy stories and fantasies for next season's network menus.

That may be true — almost all the shows that have been announced, leaked or rumored seem to be half-hour comedies. Although this season is still young, it should be noted that those same people put more than 30 new shows into the network schedules in September, and have not achieved one real solid hit among them.

In this connection, it is interesting that year in, year out, CBS' Red Skelton maintains his large, loyal audience and his show is almost always up among the five or six top programs.

The form of the hour show is almost as predictable as the arrival of Christmas from the moment when Skelton, in tuxedo, appears for his opening monologue to the "silent spot" at the end.

The star, television's iron man with a record of a weekly show for 14 years, has his good weeks and his bad ones, depending on the material in his monologue and the ingenuity of his sketch writers.

The moments when he does his pantomime invariably are memorable. The dance numbers, in style, choreography and handsome sets and costumes, rank with those on the Andy Williams show, which means very good indeed.

Tuesday night was one of Skelton's off shows. The jokes in the monologue failed to catch the studio audience's fancy. There was a long and inane sketch involving a restaurant and barber shop that was full of soap suds and flying spaghetti. Finally there was a pointless and slightly vulgar doctor-patient sketch that rambled around.

It was a very ragged show, but there were still a few fine moments, notably a short pantomime bit by Red, playing a meek little convict turning into an aggressive lion of a man when he discovers he can swing a sledge hammer.

Recommended tonight: "Ice Capades of 1966," CBS, 9-10 EST, with Arthur Godfrey, Liza Minnelli and Roger Miller.

There was a lot of opposition and the United States shoved the idea aside.

Here in Washington a group of American specialists on foreign affairs recommended at the White House Conference on International Cooperation stronger efforts to get along with the Soviet Union. But some of the efforts proposed might damage this country's European alliances.

Sheriff Asks Courts for Crime News Guide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Crime news released before trials "are what get us elected," the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association was told Tuesday, "but a release which gets an innocent man proven guilty or one which sets a guilty man free is a tremendous injustice."

The speaker at the annual sheriffs' meeting was State Sen. Danny Johnson, D-Tuscarawas, who said certain guidelines are necessary to govern pretrial publicity. Courts will have to hand down such guidelines, Johnson said, rather than the legislature passing "gag" laws.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The word is getting around in the television business that the executives who decide what programs we shall or shall not see are still concentrating on larger-than-life spy stories and fantasies for next season's network menus.

That may be true — almost all the shows that have been announced, leaked or rumored seem to be half-hour comedies.

Although this season is still young, it should be noted that those same people put more than 30 new shows into the network schedules in September, and have not achieved one real solid hit among them.

In this connection, it is interesting that year in, year out, CBS' Red Skelton maintains his large, loyal audience and his show is almost always up among the five or six top programs.

The form of the hour show is almost as predictable as the arrival of Christmas from the moment when Skelton, in tuxedo, appears for his opening monologue to the "silent spot" at the end.

The star, television's iron man with a record of a weekly show for 14 years, has his good weeks and his bad ones, depending on the material in his monologue and the ingenuity of his sketch writers.

The moments when he does his pantomime invariably are memorable. The dance numbers, in style, choreography and hands-on sets and costumes, rank with those on the Andy Williams show, which means very good indeed.

Tuesday night was one of Skelton's off shows. The jokes in the monologue failed to catch the studio audience's fancy. There was a long and inane sketch involving a restaurant and barber shop that was full of soap suds and flying spaghetti. Finally there was a pointless and slightly vulgar doctor-patient sketch that rambled around.

It was a very ragged show, but there were still a few fine moments, notably a short pantomime bit by Red, playing a meek little convict turning into an aggressive lion of a man when he discovers he can swing a sledge hammer.

Recommended tonight: "Ice Capades of 1966," CBS, 9-10 EST, with Arthur Godfrey, Liza Minnelli and Roger Miller.

Burglar Just Hungry. Gets Very Little Cash

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — This burglar apparently was just hungry and thirsty—he wasn't too much interested in money.

Operators of Waldo's Supper Club reported to police today that someone broke into the establishment last night.

The loot was: 75 pounds of beef; 13½ pounds of ham; 10 pounds of spareribs and 24 bottles of whisky.

The cash loss was only about $7.

Fort Jennings Entry Wins Top Pork Award

CHICAGO (AP) — The entry of Richer Bros., Fort Jennings, Ohio, was grand champion pork carcass and brought $6 a pound at the International Live Stock Exposition Tuesday.

Arcadia Farms of Northfield, Ohio, showed the champion carlot of shorthorn cattle, light weights.

Mustang-Viking Tilt Tops Area Basketball Action

Westfall and Teays Valley basketball teams clash Saturday on the Viking hardwood in a cage game that will command sports fan interest in the county. Logan Elm will host New Lexington St. Aloysius Saturday.

Westfall and Teays Valley both will be seeking their first wins of the season.

Although winless, Westfall and Teays Valley have shown good potential in games to date.

At Teays Valley, Coach Russ Gregg has what he feels may be one of his best defensive teams since the school district was formed.

IN A Thanksgiving Holiday tournament at Columbus South, the defending state champion Class AA team, the Vikings lost by one point to Central and by two points to South. Both games were decided in the final seconds of play.

Westfall lost to Jonathan Alder by one point after holding an 11-point lead at halftime. Jonathan Alder is defending Central District Class A champion.

Logan Elm opened with a four-point decision over Carroll. St. Aloysius is a perennial power in Perry County, a hotbed of basketball in Southeastern Ohio.

The New Lexington team has been on the Braves' schedule for the past two years and has won both previous encounters.

In other area cage games of local interest, Zane Trace hosts Huntington and Laurelville is at Piquette. The latter tilt is a Scioto Valley Conference battle.

On Saturday the Laurelville Wildcats are at home, playing Wilton in a Vinton-Hocking League affair.

Mighty 'O' Leads Royals At Fast Clip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oscar Robertson has the Cincinnati Royals moving better than ever in the National Basketball Association.

The Royals downed the Los Angeles Lakers 126-120 Tuesday night for their fourth consecutive victory and pulled even with the Eastern Division-leading Boston Celtics as far as games are concerned. Cincinnati still trails on percentage points.

In the other NBA games, Baltimore crushed Philadelphia 129-108 and New York wallopped St. Louis 138-119 in a double-header at New York.

Robertson poured in 41 points and collected 14 assists. Just last Saturday night against New York he scored 44 points and notched 16 assists.

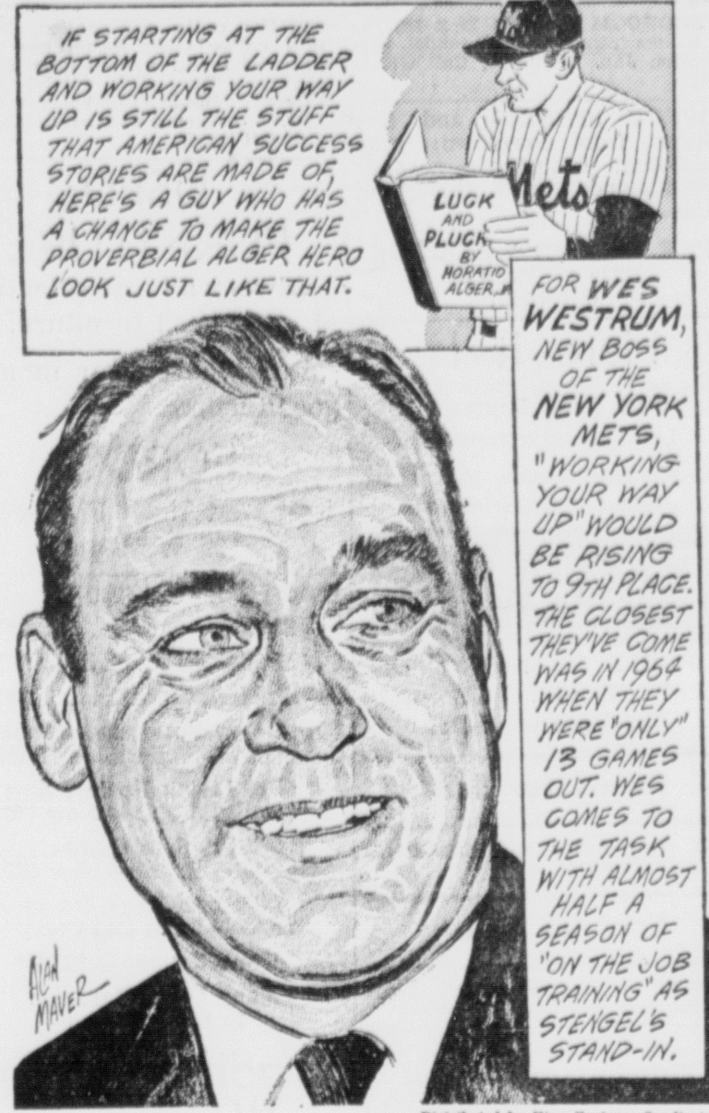

The Knicks made the New York coaching debut of Dick M. Guire a success, putting the game beyond St. Louis' reach with a 77-point first half. Dick Barnett and Dick Van Arsdale powered a 13-point spree midway through the second quarter that shot New York far ahead of the Hawks.

Massillon Grid Pilot Eyed by Pittsburgh

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Northeastern District board of writers and broadcasters has named Earle Bruce of Massillon the district's Class AA high school football coach of the year. Jim Smith of Lake, Stark County, is his Class A counterpart.

Bruce, scheduled for an interview about the University of Pittsburgh head coaching vacancy today, directed his Tigers to the AP state championship. Smith, like Bruce, had an undefeated season.

WORKING HIS WAY UP - By Alan Maver

'Muscles Are Horrible,' Says Physical Fitness Buff

NEW YORK (AP) — Too many people are sitters and not movers, says Irene Kristianson.

The more you move the prettier you look and the better you feel, adds the tall, 23-year-old Stockholm secretary who is in New York with 15 other pretty, moving Swedes to prove the point.

They are members of the famed Idla Ensemble of rhythmic dancers who will give an exhibition at Town Hall Saturday night and give the nation a look at their shapely wares Sunday night on television (CBS, Ed Sullivan Show).

Big Future Is Seen for Browns' Sub

CLEVELAND (AP) — Leroy Kelly has dashed into the National Football League's punt return lead—and maybe into the Cleveland Browns starting backfield in the near future.

Dub Jones, Browns' backfield coach who has worked with Kelly for the past two years, said "I'd be willing to match Leroy's potential with any of the much publicized backs coming out of college this year. He's way above average. In fact, he eventually may move in with the 'super' players."

Kelly, a kickoff and punt return specialist who sometimes subs for running back Ernie Green, returned punts 56 and 46 yards against the Pittsburgh Steelers last Sunday — the 56-yarder for a touchdown.

The two returns put him in the NFL lead with 12 attempts for 210 yards and a 17.5-yard average. He returned one for 67 yards and a touchdown against the Dallas Cowboys Nov. 21.

Kelly may step into the Browns regular backfield if and when Jim Brown retires.

"We hope Jim will be with us for a long time," Jones said, "but Leroy and Ernie would make a good pair of runners. Leroy doesn't have the weight of the so-called big backs, but he's a perfectly proportioned 205 pounds."

Jim Brown Posts Bond in Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Brown, Cleveland Browns fullback, has posted a $500 bond in juvenile court to guarantee his appearance Jan. 18 for a preliminary hearing in a paternity suit.

Brown posted the bond Tuesday after attorneys for Miss Brenda Ayres, 18, filed an affidavit alleging that Brown is responsible for her pregnancy.

Brown, father of three, was acquitted last summer of assault and battery charges filed by Miss Ayres.

He said Miss Ayres' suit was "an outrageous falsehood" that "makes me wonder what these people are trying to do to me."

CHS Booster Meet Scheduled Tonight

Chester Iery Sr., president of the Circleville Booster Club announced there will be a meeting 8 p. m. today at the National Guard Armory on E. Franklin St.

Business to be discussed will include funds raised through the candy sale.

Collier Says Division Title Only Half of Battle in NFL

CLEVELAND (AP)—Blanton Collier feels that his club is only halfway home with the Eastern Division honors tucked away en route to another National Football League championship.

Was the divisional victory more satisfying than last year's triumph?

"That's a difficult question. Last year it was the first one for us together. And it was more dramatic. We felt we had to prove something going into that last game in New York. If we are able to repeat as league champions then I'm sure we'll feel this is the most satisfying."

Was there a key victory this season?

"I hadn't thought about it but the victory in Philadelphia might come close to answering that description. We had lost to St. Louis the week before and were behind in the last quarter."

Do you still believe it's tougher to win the second time?

"I suppose there might be some debate now that we've won it but I haven't changed my mind. Things could have been different. Early injuries put Washington out of things. The Redskins now are playing like they were expected to. St. Louis has had a batch of people hurt. And we had some tough, close calls along the way. It wasn't easy."

Was there any one thing you feared going to training camp?

"Yes, complacency among ourselves."

How did you combat it?

"Not by any one thing. We just kept trying to improve. Everyone kept working at their jobs. The players showed they had the true desire to win again."

Did Paul Warfield's injury change the type of offense?

"No, basically. However, we didn't go on with some things we planned to develop. Paul gets double coverage from other teams and that makes a difference. A good running attack has to be the basis of any good

CHS Mat Starters Named for Meet

Circleville wrestling coach Dave LaBounty has announced starting candidates for tomorrow's meet with visiting Whitehall.

Tentative starters and their weights include Steve Nelson, 103; Mark Lindsey, 112; John Butts, 120; Craig Benzenberg, 127; Dean Martin, 133; Carl Hoffman, 138; Ronnie Miller, 145; Jim Campbell, 154; Darryl Bass, 165; Jim Archer, 175; Edward Shaeffer, heavyweight.

LaBounty expects a real good meet with the Rams always rated a good wrestling school. The match is scheduled to start at 4:30 p. m.

"Sport fans who don't come out to watch the meet are missing a real good spectator event," LaBounty says.

THE TIGER mentor feels the mat sport is one of the more exciting forms of competition on the high school scene.

Not only will the meet be good, but Whitehall will also have a defending district champion in Steve Berry, who wrestled at 120 pounds last year.

With the exception of the heavier classes where there is a lack of depth, LaBounty feels the Tigers will have a good team this season.

He reports the freshman turnout is one of the best he has seen here, both in quality and size. Before the season ends, he expects some freshman to be in contention for starting roles.

The California Angels figure to draw more people in their new Anaheim park next year. They drew 566,727 in 1965 in Dodger Stadium.

Butkus Sparkles As Bears Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Butkus of the Chicago Bears is another brilliant rookie living up to his college press clippings in his first year of professional football.

The 6-foot-3, 240-pound middle linebacker intercepted a pass and recovered a fumble Sunday against the New York Giants and put on another impressive performance at Yankee Stadium.

As a result, The Associated Press has named Butkus the Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Butkus Sparkles As Bears Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Butkus of the Chicago Bears is another brilliant rookie living up to his college press clippings in his first year of professional football.

The 6-foot-3, 240-pound middle linebacker intercepted a pass and recovered a fumble Sunday against the New York Giants and put on another impressive performance at Yankee Stadium.

As a result, The Associated Press has named Butkus the Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Branch Rickey, 83, Continues in Coma

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Former baseball executive Branch Rickey, 83, remains in a coma today at the Boone County Hospital.

The one-time St. Louis Cardinal and Brooklyn Dodger official was stricken by a heart attack at a Missouri Sports Hall of Fame dinner in his honor here Nov. 13.

'Muscles Are Horrible,' Says Physical Fitness Buff

NEW YORK (AP) — Too many people are sitters and not movers, says Irene Kristianson.

The more you move the prettier you look and the better you feel, adds the tall, 23-year-old Stockholm secretary who is in New York with 15 other pretty, moving Swedes to prove the point.

They are members of the famed Idla Ensemble of rhythmic dancers who will give an exhibition at Town Hall Saturday night and give the nation a look at their shapely wares Sunday night on television (CBS, Ed Sullivan Show).

"This isn't show business—it's sport, it's physical fitness," insists Irene, who doesn't have to do much moving to convince folks of her philosophy.

She is 5-foot-8, 132 pounds, blonde, blue-eyed, with measurements which she blushing gives as 35-24-35. She got it all, she says, from swinging and swaying, leaping blithely across a stage like a ballet dancer and bouncing red and white rubber balls on the floors.

This is all part of the new school of movement created by Ernst Idla, a precise, graying man of 64 who was born in Estonia, studied medicine and psychology in Germany and finally wound up in Sweden teaching this unusual form of gymnastics.

Idla girls are all amateurs — secretaries, school teachers, even housewives ranging in age from 20 to 29. They made this trip on their holidays.

They speak good, if not perfect, English and they all agree with Irene—women weren't created to ruin their bodies playing tennis and golf or the men in playing football and bashing each other around the ring.

"Muscles are horrible," insists Irene. "They look terrible. They make you feel terrible. You can't move with muscles." The svelte Swedish miss said active motions—like dancing on tip-toes, kicking high with the legs, bending and swaying—make for a happier life.

Men would be better if they did exercises like this, she added, rather than putting on headgear and heavy pads and trying to beat each other's brains out on a football field.

"Sports should be enjoyment," she said. "It distresses me when I see men, and even sometimes women, playing games. They are very grim. They act surly and mad. They should all be like us—free in our movements, happy in our lives."

We agree. If all were like Irene, there could be no kick—except maybe a ballet kick, that is.

Jim Brown Posts Bond in Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Brown, Cleveland Browns fullback, has posted a $500 bond in juvenile court to guarantee his appearance Jan. 18 for a preliminary hearing in a paternity suit.

Brown posted the bond Tuesday after attorneys for Miss Brenda Ayres, 18, filed an affidavit alleging that Brown is responsible for her pregnancy. Brown, father of three, was acquitted last summer of assault and battery charges filed by Miss Ayres.

He said Miss Ayres' suit was "an outrageous falsehood" that "makes me wonder what these people are trying to do to me."

CHS Booster Meet Scheduled Tonight

Chester Iery Sr., president of the Circleville Booster Club announced there will be a meeting 8 p. m. today at the National Guard Armory on E. Franklin St.

Business to be discussed will include funds raised through the candy sale.

Collier Says Division Title Only Half of Battle in NFL

CLEVELAND (AP)—Blanton Collier feels that his club is only halfway home with the Eastern Division honors tucked away en route to another National Football League championship.

Was the divisional victory more satisfying than last year's triumph?

"That's a difficult question. Last year it was the first one for us together. And it was more dramatic. We felt we had to prove something going into that last game in New York. If we are able to repeat as league champions then I'm sure we'll feel this is the most satisfying."

Was there a key victory this season?

"I hadn't thought about it but the victory in Philadelphia might come close to answering that description. We had lost to St. Louis the week before and were behind in the last quarter."

Do you still believe it's tougher to win the second time?

"I suppose there might be some debate now that we've won it but I haven't changed my mind. Things could have been different. Early injuries put Washington out of things. The Redskins now are playing like they were expected to. St. Louis has had a batch of people hurt. And we had some tough, close calls along the way. It wasn't easy."

Was there any one thing you feared going to training camp?

"Yes, complacency among ourselves."

How did you combat it?

"Not by any one thing. We just kept trying to improve. Everyone kept working at their jobs. The players showed they had the true desire to win again."

Did Paul Warfield's injury change the type of offense?

"No, basically. However, we didn't go on with some things we planned to develop. Paul gets double coverage from other teams and that makes a difference. A good running attack has to be the basis of any good

CHS Mat Starters Named for Meet

Circleville wrestling coach Dave LaBounty has announced starting candidates for tomorrow's meet with visiting Whitehall.

Tentative starters and their weights include Steve Nelson, 103; Mark Lindsey, 112; John Butts, 120; Craig Benzenberg, 127; Dean Martin, 133; Carl Hoffman, 138; Ronnie Miller, 145; Jim Campbell, 154; Darryl Bass, 165; Jim Archer, 175; Edward Shaeffer, heavyweight.

LaBounty expects a real good meet with the Rams always rated a good wrestling school. The match is scheduled to start at 4:30 p. m.

"Sport fans who don't come out to watch the meet are missing a real good spectator event," LaBounty says.

THE TIGER mentor feels the mat sport is one of the more exciting forms of competition on the high school scene.

Not only will the meet be good, but Whitehall will also have a defending district champion in Steve Berry, who wrestled at 120 pounds last year.

With the exception of the heavier classes where there is a lack of depth, LaBounty feels the Tigers will have a good team this season.

He reports the freshman turnout is one of the best he has seen here, both in quality and size. Before the season ends, he expects some freshman to be in contention for starting roles.

The California Angels figure to draw more people in their new Anaheim park next year. They drew 566,727 in 1965 in Dodger Stadium.

two weeks ago, said he will take over as commissioner with no obligations to anyone.

"Nobody tied any strings on me, so there aren't any to pull," said the unemotional 55-year-old commissioner, who described himself as a "product of small-town America, with no experience in baseball."

Eckert said as commissioner he will not "overlook or shrink from the hard decisions growing out of disputes, whoever may be involved."

Despite his blunt speech, Eckert said he does not plan to offer any immediate remedies for problems plaguing baseball.

"First I want to see some ball games," said Eckert, who went on only one game last summer.

Eckert said he does not believe his lack of baseball experience will hamper him as commissioner because he has had wide experience as an Air Force officer in dealing with people and problems.

"I make no claims to omnipotence," he said, "but I practice justice and equity."

Eckert said he was gratified by the "gracious reception" given him as commissioner despite his lack of baseball fame.

Ohio Colleges To Open Cage Season Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio colleges, their football togs neatly tucked away until next fall, swing into the 1965-66 basketball season tonight.

There's action aplenty with 29 schools ready to fire at the basket in a heavy 21-game program.

Ohio State, Bowling Green, Ohio University, Miami, Toledo, Cincinnati, Dayton, Youngstown and Wittenberg are among the schools ready to inaugurate the campaign.

Coach Fred Taylor's Buckeyes, anxious to atone for a mediocre season a year ago, start a two-game road trip at Missouri before colliding with NCAA king UCLA Friday night.

Taylor is hopeful with a generous sprinkling of veterans and Bill Hosket, the talented sophomore from Dayton Belmont.

Dayton, expected to be an independent power with 6-foot-11 Hank Finkel still on the scene, entertains Villa Madonna while Cincinnati is at home to Central Missouri.

Ohio U. and Miami, which shared the Mid-American Conference championship, are both at home, the Bobcats facing De Pauw and Miami opposing Otterbein.

Bowling Green catches Ball State at home while Toledo, not expected to have much, entertains Baldwin-Wallace.

Steubenville plays at St. Francis (Pa.) while Youngstown visits Ashland.

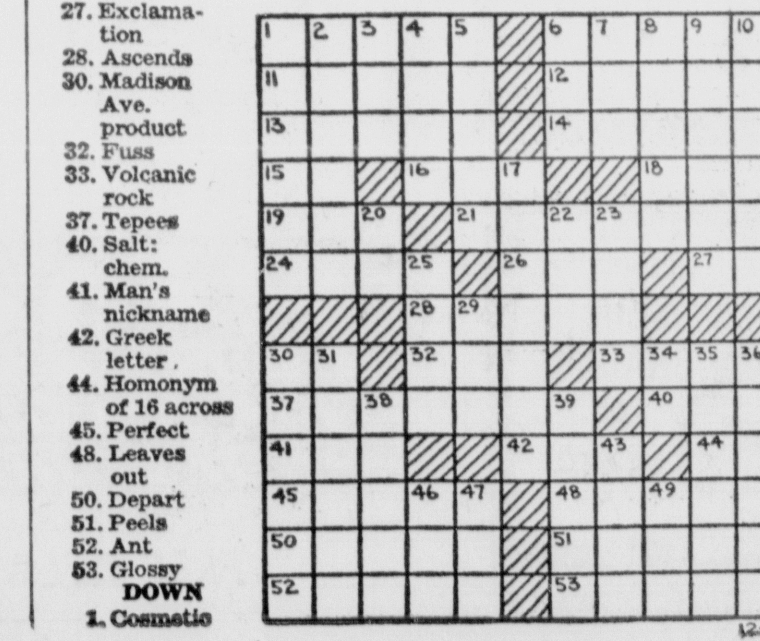

Wittenberg, always a small school power, journeys to Nashville for a clash with Vanderbilt, ranked as one of the Southland's top teams.

Other games: Kent State at Wayne State; Wooster at Heidelberg; Capital at Denison; Mount Union at Ohio Wesleyan; Marietta at Glenville; Oberlin at Adrian; Concordia at Defiance; Malone at Thiel; Walsh at Findlay; Bluffton at Ohio Northern and Cleveland State at Hiram.

New Baseball Czar Gives Pledge He Won't Be Just Puppet on String

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Gen. William Eckert says he won't be intimidated in his new job as commissioner of baseball.

The retired Air Force officer bluntly told baseball officials Tuesday night that he won't allow himself "to become a puppet."

Eckert, making his first formal speech since taking the job

two weeks ago, said he will take over as commissioner with no obligations to anyone.

"Nobody tied any strings on me, so there aren't any to pull," said the unemotional 55-year-old commissioner, who described himself as a "product of small-town America, with no experience in baseball."

Eckert said as commissioner he will not "overlook or shrink from the hard decisions growing out of disputes, whoever may be involved."

Despite his blunt speech, Eckert said he does not plan to offer any immediate remedies for problems plaguing baseball.

"First I want to see some ball games," said Eckert, who went on only one game last summer.

Eckert said he does not believe his lack of baseball experience will hamper him as commissioner because he has had wide experience as an Air Force officer in dealing with people and problems.

"I make no claims to omnipotence," he said, "but I practice justice and equity."

Eckert said he was gratified by the "gracious reception" given him as commissioner despite his lack of baseball fame.

"The day after I was named commissioner," Eckert said, "Willie Mays — whom I admire greatly — asked 'who's he?'"

Eckert said he planned to change that image by mixing with baseball players, the minor leagues and the public.

"The commissioner foregoes none of the disciplinary responsibilities of office if he lends the authority of his office and the persuasiveness of his nature to advance baseball as our national pastime," Eckert said. "I intend to do just that."

Eckert, who has been seen only briefly in public since arriving for the baseball meetings which started Monday and move on to Miami tonight, said he wants to broaden interest in baseball "to include all levels and all ages."

Eckert's speech enlivened a rather dull day marked by much speculation about player trades but little action.

Two veterans cut loose earlier were signed. The California Angels took third baseman Frank Malzone, who had been dropped by the Red Sox, and Cleveland signed catcher Del Crandall, released by Pittsburgh. The New York Mets finally announced a trade that sent outfielder Joe Christopher to Boston for shortstop Eddie Bresoud.

GOOD JOE NOW — That $400,000 beauty of the New York Jets, Joe Namath, got off slowly this year but he has been improving right along and in his most recent outing, against the Houston Oilers in New York, he tossed four touchdown passes to lead his club to a 41-14 win. Namath here throws one against the Oilers.

OSU Prexy Plans Hearing In Bricker-Prof Hassle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University President Novice G. Fawcett plans an informal hearing this week on a hassle in which an OSU professor bumped heads with John W. Bricker of the school's board of trustees.

Prof. David Kettler of the political science department, alleging a letter from Bricker interfered with his activities as

Newcomers Welcomed by Area Chamber

A get-acquainted breakfast meeting was conducted 8 a. m. today at the Pickaway Arms for Area Chamber of Commerce members who have joined the organization since June of this year.

Jack Clifton, president, offered a general review of the "Program of Action" carried out by the Chamber. He also introduced Earl Palm, incoming president for 1966.

Mrs. E. R. Bennett, executive secretary, discussed activities at the Chamber office and the services which are offered to Chamber members and the community.

Individuals and business representatives invited to the meeting were Robert Glick, Prairie Lanes, Turner Wheel Alignment, Dean's Potato Chips, Owens-Illinois Co., Cole Nursery, Roger Bennington, John Brinker Realty, Circleville Broadcasting Co., Ike's Septic Tank Service, External Termite Service, Dr. H. H. Shuttleworth, Mr. and Mrs. Rance Bellamy, S & J Auto Parts, O'Dell and Curry, Chaney Vance, Circle D Recreation and Bowling.

Herman Lieker, manager of King's Department Store and a newcomer to Circleville, was also present for the session.

Work Accidents Cause 2 Injuries

Industrial accidents resulted in emergency care at Berger Hospital yesterday for two of three persons who were treated and released.

a private citizen, took his case to the American Association of University Professors' OSU chapter. The AAUP complained to Fawcett.

It was another letter, from Kettler to the Internal Revenue Service's Cincinnati office, that supposedly led to the missive from Bricker, former Ohio governor and U. S. senator.

And yet another letter — a newsletter under the masthead of a commercial firm — led to Kettler's writing IRS.

Kettler said he wrote Oct. 8 asking IRS whether the newsletter distributed by Dollar Federal Savings & Loan Association, Columbus, had been listed by the firm as a business deduction.

He contended "it seemed to me to be political propaganda but the format suggested (Dollar Federal) was claiming the cost of the sheet as a business expense."

Kettler said he heard back from Internal Revenue, acknowledging receipt of his letter, but Dollar Federal said Tuesday it hasn't heard anything from IRS on the matter.

Meanwhile, Kettler related, he heard from Bricker and said he referred the letter to the AAUP chapter to see "if they thought it constituted interference with my activities as a citizen."

Bricker said he "was not trying to interfere with anyone's political activities" nor was there any pressure on Kettler in regard to his university standing.

Neither party would disclose the exact nature of the Bricker letter.

A Dollar Federal official emphasized that Bricker is not associated with the firm.

Unique Movie Library Has Shots of Everything

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When movie and television producers need shots of a seagull, a shipwreck or a sunset, they call Elmer Dyer.

You name it and Elmer is likely to have it among the million feet of film contained in his unique movie library. If he doesn't have it, he will go out and shoot it.

The Dyer place is stacked to the ceiling with cans of film he has taken in his lifetime. They are arranged as to subjects: birds, flowers and fruits, football, ambulances, snow, etc. But it is obvious that most of the cataloging is inside the canny filmmaker's head.

"They want a signal flare over at 'Petticoat Junction,'" he told an assistant. "I think you'll find a signal flare in the fire works I shot at the Rose Bowl."

Dyer started in the movie business for Universal in 1912 and worked for most of the studios over the years in filming background and aerial shots, notably "Hells Angels" for Howard Hughes. The idea for a library came out of his hobby of collecting films of old aircraft.

"I must have six or seven thousand feet of old airplanes, including some 1904 shots of the Wright brothers," said Dyer. "Cutters would hear about the film and ask if they could buy some of it to use in movies."

After three years in the Air Force during World War II, Dyer found he could get work in the studios. Television was then an upstart, and the major studios wouldn't sell any stock footage to television film makers.

Dyer saw a chance to service them from his own library. He has added to his collection on trips and locations. During the past 20 years he has shot only in color; his foresight is now paying off in the era of tinted television.

Little Federal Cash Seen To Pay for Lakes Cleanup

CLEVELAND (AP) — The eight Great Lakes states, plus industrial firms in the states, must pay most of the estimated $20 billion needed to clean up the lake, a federal official said Tuesday.

James M. Quigley, assistant secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, spoke at the closing session of the annual meeting of the Great Lakes Commission.

He said time was running out to do the cleanup job and recommendations formulated by the recent federal water pollution control conference here "will have to be carried out quickly if they are to have any effect at all."

"Much of the $20 billion must come from industries," Quigley said. "There is no way you can escape that fact. A large portion must come from municipalities, a great deal from the states."

"Some, but at the very most not even a large fraction of the needed money is going to come from the federal government."

Quigley said the government will use construction grants available under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act. These funds, however, provide only $150 million for sewage treatment plant construction in all of the United States," he said.

Recommendations adopted by the federal water conference were:

—Secondary treatment and disinfection of municipal wastes and the equivalent treatment of all industrial wastes.

—Elimination of combined sanitary and storm sewers wherever possible.

—Regional planning and design of waste treatment facilities wherever possible.

—Continuous monitoring of all industrial waste discharges.

Quigley said Lake Erie is the worst polluted of the five Great Lakes and much of the $20 billion would have to be spent there.

He said Ohio's target date of 1969 for completion of pollution projects seems, "a discouragingly long way away."

In its closing session, the commission elected Edgar Whitcomb, a lawyer from Seymour, Ind., as its chairman.

Central Ohio Klan Probe Is Completed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police reported today that a secret two-day probe of Ku Klux Klan activity in central Ohio has been concluded by agents of the House Subcommittee on Un-American Activities.

The agents, working jointly with officers of the police intelligence squad, are said to have investigated reports of violence in connection with the Klan plans in Ohio.

Details of the investigation, Columbus police said, would be withheld until a hearing by the subcommittee after Congress reconvenes.

"All of our findings will come out at a hearing in early January," an official of the intelligence squad reported.

The police investigators said the two-day study concerned primarily the activity — past, present and future — of local KKK groups, rather than the Klan officials themselves. "We are interested in what violence may be involved," an officer said.
